

New Era Magazine

Breath of the Heart

By Ammara Arit

www.neweramagazine.com

بسم اللہ الرحمن الرحیم

(Complete Novel)

Breath Of the Heart

By Ammara Arif

ہماری ویب میں شائع ہونے والے ناولز کے تمام جملہ و حقوق بمعہ مصنفہ کے نام محفوظ ہیں۔ ہمیں اپنی ویب نیو ایرا میگزین (New Era Magazine) کیلئے لکھاریوں کی ضرورت ہے۔ اگر آپ ہماری ویب پر اپنا ناول، ناولٹ، افسانہ، کالم، آرٹیکل، شاعری، پوسٹ کروانا چاہیں تو اردو میں ٹائپ کر کے مندرجہ ذیل ذرائع کا استعمال کرتے ہوئے ہمیں بھیج سکتے ہیں۔

(Neramag@gmail.com)

(انشا اللہ آپ کی تحریر ایک ہفتے کے اندر اندر ویب پر پوسٹ کر دی جائے گی۔ مزید تفصیلات کیلئے اوپر دیئے گئے رابطے کے ذرائع کا استعمال کر سکتے ہیں۔

شکریہ ادارہ: نیو ایرا میگزین

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

CHAPTER NO.1: REALITY

Seeing that newborn baby from the window, MARINA was standing like an utterly lost and entire object. The newborn baby was dreaming in his world but whatever happened today was a miracle. Since the day she came here, miracles gathered around her and she believed in ALLAH's power was lengthening more vigorously.

'Miracles are part of one's life who believe in ALLAH without seeing HIM and leave each suspire on ALLAH', she remembered her aunt's quotations.

MARINA was a cardiac surgeon but how come she saved the life of a mother and her newborn baby. She was not a gynecologist but today and now this degree was also visible with her name.

She was going to her flat after her duty but when she was passing from the corridor of the hospital, she saw a woman coming towards the hospital and suddenly her foot slipped down the stairs and she fell on her stomach and started screaming. MARINA ran towards the reception and ordered for the stretcher. When a nurse brought the stretcher, they lifted the woman on the stretcher and ran inside the hospital towards HCU. MARINA ordered the nurse to call DR.

SAVANNAH for urgent treatment but today there was no gynecologist in the hospital as it was Sunday. Now, the nurse requested MARINA to operate on that woman as they had no time. This was the third time it happened to her. She could only deal with those cases which were related to her field but to save someone's life is the doctor's duty so she decided to operate on that woman once again. While her first operation, her soul was also shivering with her hands but when it went successful, she got some confidence. During the third operation, her hands were shivering with fear but the operation was successful and the woman and his newborn baby were also saved. She also got victory the third time and it was just because of ALLAH. After the operation, she went directly to her cabin and bent down her soul before ALLAH.

'So which of the favors of your Lord would you deny?'

Suddenly a verse distracted her quick heartbeats.

ALTHOUGH, HE IS THE ONE.

Today, the level of belief and faith in ALLAH was raised. Indeed, HE is the 'AL-HIFEEZU' the only PROTECTOR who saved HIS men in every difficulty. She was not pessimistic today because those who have complete faith in ALLAH are always optimistic and cheerful. She was not happy but a layer of peace was there in her soul.

At night, she was responding to some emails, when she got an emo call from PAKISTAN. Her friends DANIEL and DANIYA were calling her from PAKISTAN, those friends, for whom she left her home her country and came to ITALY but they didn't even know about all that matter. Sometimes she ignored their calls by pretending that she was busy in her duty in the hospital. She didn't want to pick up the call but received it at anyhow. After picking up the call DANIEL and DANIYA were always shocked to see her because as she went to ITALY she not only changed her lifestyle, she also changed herself. She began to cover her head. This was not much shocking for DANIYA but it always left DANIEL shocked.

Sometimes, he taunted MARINA by saying;

'OHHH! You have found someone there in ITALY to spend your life with but we will not accept that man without taking his interview.

Here MARINA always laughed at his jokes and began to the thought that she only changed herself for ALLAH

Whether He looks on her or not...

That day, after a long HI HELLO, DANIYA commented

'Do you know MARINA, we are talking after a month's break. You have been very selfish. You don't even care for your family and best friends.'

MARINA controlled herself and said: 'my dear sister, I have a busy routine here even I have no time for myself. I try my best to respond to you and DANIEL as soon as possible but I can't. She lied to them here.'

DANIEL smiled and said: 'Yes, we can understand.

Now you have done MBBS specialization so you must proud to yourself that your status has grown bigger and now you will ignore your friends who have a lower class than you.'

MARINA didn't say anything for minutes and here DANIYA understood that DANIEL was a little bit harsh to her

MARINA replied: 'There is nothing like that. Why will I ignore you guys? It's up to you whether you understand my situation or mistook it.'

MARINA said: 'Leave all that, just tell me are you taking care of my dear friend or you still fight with her.'

DANIEL stared at DANIYA and said while smiling: 'I have no more choice, my dear friend'.

'Yes, you have no more choice. If I got to know that your eyes are seeing some other girls then....'

'Then, What?'

'Are you trying to threaten me?' DANIEL asked.

'Yes, my cute bastard boy, I am just giving you warning that if I will get such information about you then I and DANIYA are going to snatch your eyes and all your gasps'. MARINA said angrily.

The three laughed at this point.

DANIYA said: 'MINA, do you know what, I called SANIYA aunty.'

At this moment, it was difficult for MARINA to control herself when she heard her mother's name. She drank a sip of water and looked at DANIYA.

DANIYA added: 'she was crying with tears, she is very tensed. She is your mother and she is missing you. She has the right to receive love from her blood but you have been very careless for six years. Just call her in a day or two to console her. You don't even care for yourself, look at yourself. You are so weak. I feel like you have not slept for months and months. Look, duty and patients are more significant in this profession. We are also a part of this profession but we have never ignored our families, our health, and our friends.'

MARINA answered back after thinking a reason: 'There is nothing like that, you all are very important to me as always and I am also fine here.'

DANIYA pressed her both hands firmly and DANIEL was standing at her back: 'MINA, look at my hands. I am begging you. I am requesting you to please come back. We can't live without you here, please. Your purple flowers and your detox is waiting for you curiously. You promised me that if I will call you, you will look at me back always and will come for me. Do come back.'

DANIEL added: 'MARINA, please. You have gone since Eight years ago. We all are missing you even DR.SHURAIM was asking about you two days before.'

MARINA replied: 'Yes, I will come.'

*'I will talk to you guys later. You both take care of yourself.
BYE!'*

She closed her laptop. Now there was silence in the room. She knew how she spent these Eight years here alone. Her life was not a life it was similar to lying objects on the floor and she pulled it like a heavy load on her shoulder. This night was very heavy for her again. It was looking like that time has again stopped and it will not resume again. Today, she remembered all that story. That story was unable for her to forget. After, when she came to ITALY, she kept herself busy not to remember that story that memory again for which she left her parents and her friends crying on their back for her. She couldn't see them cry but it was not in her hand.

MARINA lived in LAHORE with her parents and she had a complete a united family. She had a brother ADIL and sister SONIYA. Everyone was happy. MARINA loved her grandparents as well and MARINA was the dear daughter of her parents and her grandparents. ADIL always loves her sister just like his princess. They all lived in a bungalow. MARINA was very attached to nature. Whenever someone sees her room, they couldn't resist without praising her choice. In her childhood, she had an accident and her one ear got damaged due to which she couldn't listen properly and doctors recommended her to use a Bluetooth headset while talking to someone on the phone. MARINA's room was on the corner of the house as she could see the garden of her house from the window. Her garden was filled with purple flowers everywhere as she loved purple flowers. Whenever she sees her garden while standing at her window there should be a glass of detox in her hand which reflects her environment of Heaven. She was a lively girl with many dreams in her eyes. She was a creative girl with a glorified blasting intelligence. She has always maintained her blasting progress report in her career even she continued her MBBS in scholarship mode. According to her thinking:

'When there is a will in a person to achieve another person, sacrifice is a significant step.'

But she doesn't know about her fortune. She doesn't know that her whole life will be passed in a sacrificed mood. She had two best friends in her life; DANIEL and DANIYA. She called DANIEL by his nickname DANI. She liked DANIEL's representative signature even on her birthday DANIEL gifted her a locket of his signature. Their bond was very strong. Everyone praises their friendship even their family members knew about their bond and they all also liked them. MARINA and DANIYA had a great friendship with DANIEL's grandmother MRS.SAFINA. She was a religious lady with a smile on her face. They also had a good friendship with DANIEL's sister ALMIRA. ALMIRA always shared DANIEL's stupid acts with them. DANIEL's brother was the best guitar player. DANIEL and DANIYA had a great friendship with MARINA's grandma MRS.ARYAN. Many times, after university MARINA and DANIYA secretly go to meet MRS.SAFINA at DANIEL'S house. As the same, DANIEL and DANIYA frequently visit MARINA's house to meet her grandmother MR.ARYAN. Their bonding reached this peak that MARINA liked DANIEL. The word 'like' was meaningless to describe her feelings but DANIEL and DANIYA liked each other. MARINA knew about their relationship but she never said anything because DANIYA was not only her best friend. She considered DANIYA as a sister. MRS.SAFINA and MRS.ARYAN knew all about the feelings of MARINA. MARINA has an attachment to both of them affectionately and she called them 'HER BELOVED GRANDMA'.

Sometimes MARINA came to meet MRS.SAFINA alone to get some peace. Sometimes she explained to her to tell everything to DANIEL but she never agreed. Sometimes MARINA puts her head on her lap and she recites ALLAH's book. At that moment tears filled her heart.

Now, the whole life she wants to be patient.

But in her likeness, she was never jealous. They were friends from school life. When they were in college, they decided to continue medical in the future. DANIYA decided to become a GENERAL PHYSICIAN. MARINA and DANIEL decided to become HEART SURGEON.

In university, when they were sitting in a cafeteria, MARINA was drinking detox when DANIYA held her hand, and gave her purple flowers and said to her:

'Whenever you will call my name, I will look at you and come to you back.'

MARINA smiled. She added:

'Will you call me?' she asked with hope.

'Yes, I will call you.'

'But you have to promise me', she again held her hand.

'What promise?' she asked.

'Whenever I will call you, you will look at me and you have to come back to me', she said innocently.

MARINA put her hand on DANIYA's hand and agreed.

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

DANIEL said: 'if you are done with your flirt ness, DANIYA, may I say something?

The three laughed again.

*When MARINA was sitting cafeteria, DANIEL shook her head.
She looked at him.*

He said: 'I want your help'

MARINA continued: 'Yes! Please continue, how can I help you MR. DANIEL?'

He said with funny expressions on his face: 'Actually, I just want to ask how I should propose to her?'

While MARINA drinking detox, drop all her juice on DANIEL'S shirt and started laughing loudly.

He got hilarious: 'MINA, control yourself'.

But MARINA was still laughing and she continued,

'DANI, I mean seriously, doesn't this look cheap. Will you propose to her in front of everyone? She will hit with you an enormous flower pot.'

DANIEL commented: 'why do girls show too much tantrums?'

'Excuse me, Mister, if you are trying to say that girls are always wrong and misbehave with you guys, so you guys deserve this behavior', she changed her expression.

*'Hey, look, you are talking to me like DANIYA. OH MY GOD!
How will I tolerate two foolish girls...?'*

Please help your innocent man!'

DANI! She shouted eagerly, 'get lost! Or else I will kill you.'

'Okay, MINA, my girl, I am sorry', he held his ears.

'Okay, this is the last time I am letting you go', she acted.

'What should I do?' he asked.

'You should directly play the game at her back', she showed her thumb to DANIEL.

'I didn't understand you'

'You should directly send the proposal to her home'. It seems to more simple and tragic.'

'Will she accept my proposal?'

'When the basket of will is filled with the hope of ALLAH and complete patience, ALLAH always makes their way to the right path and DANIYA is the right path of your future'

While talking they saw DANIYA coming towards them

When DANIYA came to them, she first saw DANIEL.

He picked up his mobile and went somewhere.

DANIYA said innocently: 'Doesn't it look strange?' he doesn't even look at me, MINA.

'He will always look at you. Actually, I think he is planning for a treat.'

'Which treat?'

'My dear innocent sister we are going to complete our MBBS. May for that or maybe for another reason. But you don't need to think more about that.'

DANIYA asked: 'MINA, don't you deem you should also find someone?'

'For which purpose?' she asked while looking at her BOOKS.

'I mean to say you should also select someone as your life partner and as your heart partner'.

This was the moment when she felt that someone has pulled out her tongue and she stayed statue for a few seconds when DANIYA paused her state.

MARINA said: 'WOO! WOO! Not again. Don't you think it is a little bit early?'

DANIYA looked at her and said: 'Early! We are going to complete our MBBS Anyways you should look at someone's face of your choice.'

MARINA said: 'wait here and stop here. Not again.'

And they both laughed by seeing others.

Today, her condition was as a burnt and crumbled part. She was crying without a voice. Today was the day when she handed her heart into someone's hand. There was no patience, there was no peace, there was no breath, there was no heart and there was no soul.

Today, her sister DANIYA snatched her right to see her love.

Suddenly, she stood up for ablution and her weeping mind gave her the solution to go towards ALLAH but she lost her balance, she fell on the floor and now she was in an unconscious state.

After offering prayers, MARINA'S picture came in MRS.SAFINA's mind. She called her but no one picked up the call. She called again but there was no one to answer. Now, a worry and jittery state gathered around her and she called at her house. MRS.ARYAN picked up the call. After some hi hello, she told MRS.ARYAN that MARINA was not picking up her call. MRS.ARYAN picked up the receiver in her hand and went upstairs to MARINA's room. When she opened the door of her room, she went in trauma when she saw MARINA in an unconscious state on the floor. The floor was full of blood.

The receiver fell from her hand and she came towards MARINA. She called her parents. When her mother saw her, she began to cry. Her father and ADIL took her to the hospital. MRS.SAFINA on against the receiver understand the story and ran towards DANIYAL's room.

Today, she was very happy because today her parents accepted the proposal of DANIEL for her but when she received DANIEL's message for MARINA admitting to hospital. She picked up the car keys and ran towards the hospital.

Everyone was waiting outside the ICU for the doctor. SANIYA was crying with tears as MARINA was her beloved daughter. MRS.SAFINA told MRS.ARYAN about how and why it happened with MARINA separately. MRS.ARYAN was not only her grandma, but she was also her best friend from her childhood. they both have somewhere idea in their mind that one day she will get this hock as she was the lone traveler of her journey ALMIRA, DANIEL and DANIYA were standing on another side of the floor and waiting for MARINA's condition to get in control.

After fifteen minutes, the doctor came out and said that the patient had an asthma attack due to depression and continuously crying she went into an unconscious state and due to falling to the floor she had a slight injury on her head. He requested them not to give MARINA stress and should take care of her health. He told them that MARINA had eaten nothing since five days ago. They had shifted MARINA to the general ward.

DANIYA was somewhere thinking about those words said by the doctor that what was the reason behind her depression?

When she opened her eyes, she felt someone is crying on her shoulder. When she moved her face, it was her mother crying for her. She raised her hand and put it on her hand.

'I am perfectly fine my dear mother', she said.

When her mother saw her eyes opened, she gradually offered a great reward, Salah, before ALLAH.

MRS.SAFINA and her grandma were standing next to MARINA. When MARINA moved her eyes, she saw DANIYA standing before the door. DANIYA came towards her and put her hand on her head and said: 'You were not like that before, you hid such an important report from us.'

At this moment, MARINA felt that someone has snatched her soul. Did she begin to think that did they get to know everything?

Is this the end?

She saw towards her grandma and she said: 'DANIYA is talking about five days strike of noting eating food. Why you did this?'

The breadth of peace passed along her heart.

There were many questions but she had no answer.

After two days, she was discharged. DANIYA came to her when she was finding something in her books. She saw DANIYA and closed the book. DANIYA came to her for telling her that finally the marriage proposal was accepted and after their MBBS they will be soon together. This was the day when she did not envy, instead, she was feeling happy for her sister's fortune.

After offering Zohar prayers, she went to her grandma's room. She was reciting QURAN. She went to her bed and put her head on her lap and was continuously staring at her grandma and she smiled. She always feels that her grandma looks like a cute child while reciting HOLY BOOK and she always expresses her smile by resting in her lap. She closed her eyes and feel the recitation in her heart. Her grandma put her hand on her head and she opened her eyes and smiled back.

'What is the date?' She asked.

'Date? Which date?' She asked back.

'Date of engagement'.

She stared her back and answered: 'After the completion of semester'

'What will happen when DANIYA will get to know?'

She felt someone has snatched her breadth. Earth was moving but the eyes stopped. She was also somewhere in fear for the last two nights that if someone got to know. What will happen that day?

'That day will be last day of beating heart or that day will not be less than the day of resurrection', she said in one breath.

'You don't want him back', her grandma asked another difficult question.

'No, I want something else'.

'I am in search of something very special and glorious'.

'What have you decided'? She asked again.

Now there was complete silence in the room. She was standing in front of the window. Before coming to grandma's room she decided to her final decision. Although she needs a lot of power today then never that was her last decision.

She finally spoke: 'I have applied for an Italy visa'.

At this point, her grandma felt that someone has burst an atom bomb on her soul and she is no more.

She added: 'after their wedding, I am going to continue another breathings there and nowhere.'

After their engagement ceremony, she went to that place where the three always came together but this night she came there alone. This place was 'FOUNTAIN DAISY'. One of the most silent places in the universe. Sitting alone on the edge of the fountain, she felt that today there was no sparkling no gleam at this place.

ONLY SILENCE

She was flipping stones in water by her one hand and she was holding a necklace. This necklace was gifted by DANIEL to her. Now, she has decided to live without these signs.

The silence was blessing her peace.

When she was growing to throw that necklace, she raised her hand but someone held her hand. When she saw at her back, a woman was standing at her back and she said:

'This will help in your future. Don't flip it in the water.' she stared at that woman.

'The people coming here always pray to ALLAH for their loved ones. Why are you throwing stones? Don't you love someone?'

A voice distracted her mind. She stared at her again.

'No, I don't deserve someone's love'. But she thought why was asking her and why she was answering her.

'Don't dare to ask me who am I'? The woman said back.

'Why'? MARINA asked back.

Instead of giving her an answer, she asked her a question:

'Why have you came here'?

No answer. There was complete silence.

'Did he get you'? MARINA was shocked that how did she know and she asked frequently: 'How do you know'?

No answer. There was complete silence again.

'Why you don't want him to come back'? The women asked.

'Because I, MARINA don't want him to come back', she answered proudly.

'Why'? Another question.

'No, I don't want him to come back'.

'Then, why are you here?'

Again silence. There was no answer.

She thought that she was a sinner, she had done a sin. Will ALLAH forgive her?

The woman spoke: 'ALLAH forgive all HIS men. Only HIS men need to ask HIM for HIS forgiveness.'

Was she able to ask HIM for HIS forgiveness?

The woman answered without question: 'Yes!! You have the power and strength to ask for HIS forgiveness. You are able to ask for HIS forgiveness.'

'INDEED, ALONG WITH THE HARDSHIP, THERE IS AN EASE.' She recited a verse.

At that moment, all stones directly fell into the water from her hand. She remembered at that moment that her grandma always recites this verse in front of her. Now, she understood why she always recites this verse.

The woman asked again: 'Why are you here?'

'I ...

'I am here to find ALLAH in my soul', she answered innocently. A tear fell from her eyes.

'And if you didn't find him', another difficult question.

'NO, I will find HIM although I don't deserve it, I know HIS oneness, and HE will never let me down.'

'And if you didn't find him', the heartfelt a doubt again.

'I will find HIM', she said while facing her.

'And if you didn't find HIM', she asked again.

'Then, I am going to fill my heart with HIS name.'

'Believe me, ALLAH is always with you and after suffering misery and pain in your life, HE will handover YOUR journey in your hand.' The woman answered her beautifully.

'I will meet you again'. The woman went on her way without seeing her back but she solved all problems in minutes.

Why MARINA came to FOUNTAIN daisy today?

Why he doesn't want him to come back?

What was she finding?

Why was she flipping the stones in the water?

MARINA had all the answers with her but she couldn't find but this woman helped her to detect the answer to those questions by herself.

She came to FOUNTAIN DAISY to finish all the signs of her love.

He doesn't want him to come back because he was not in her destiny.

She was finding ALLAH.

She was flipping stones in the water to call ALLAH and to tell Him that she had come back to find HIM and now no one is there to create interference between their relationship.

After the completion of MBBS, they applied for the job in the most popular hospital of LAHORE. They were appointed and they were satisfied. DANIEL and DANIYA sometimes got their desired patients to check but in this case, MARINA was unlucky. Their head, DR.SHURAIM always keeps her duty in the children's ward. DR.SHURAIM was never satisfied with her duty and always scold her in front of everyone but MARINA didn't say a word. DANIEL and DANIYA sometimes tried to explain DR.SHURAIM and they talked sometimes in her place but he was a proud doctor. He didn't even listen to them MARINA was happy and satisfied because she thought that at least her time was passing well with children. She slowly started avoiding her friends. Sometimes, she didn't even pick up their call. Her nature was bringing a change in her lifestyle. She kept herself busy the whole day.

Today it was 28 April, it was MARINA's birthday. When they were sitting in a cafeteria, DANIEL handed her a gift and said: 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY, my girl. This my gift and this my love for you from the core of my heart.'

MARINA smiled: 'Thank you. But I cannot take this.'

'Why?' He was shocked. MARINA was stubborn according to his thinking. On her birthday, she always demands a necklace of his signature but this time.

'Because now, DANIYA has the right to owe your name and your signature'.

'But I am giving you'

DANIYA came at that moment and said: 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY MINA and this is your gift.'

She handed fresh purple flowers to MARINA. In return, MARINA handed her DANIYAL's gift and said: 'This is your treat'.

DANIEL was shocked. There was something that completely changed her in days.

A day when they planned was shopping for their wedding, MARINA was also with them. They enjoyed it a lot together after a long time. MARINA's shopping ideas were always the best and today their shopping reached an end just because of her.

When they were eating dinner in the restaurant, MARINA's cell phone starts ringing. When she saw the number on the screen, she rejected the call. The cell phone rang again. She rejected it again. DANIEL was continuously noticing her. The cell phone rang again and she was going to reject the call but DANIEL snatched the cell phone. She was trying to take her mobile back and she said: 'DANI'

But DANIEL was not in his mode and he eagerly replied: 'Shut up! MINA' and tell me who is calling you'

But there was no answer.

The phone rang again and DANIEL picked up the call: 'Yes!! Who is this?'

The speaker against the phone replied: 'Sir, is this MARINA FAYAZ contact number'

'Who is this?'

At this question, MARINA's heartbeat grew faster and the speaker again the phone replied: 'sir, I am talking from PAKISTAN MBC and I need to talk to MISS MARINA.'

DANIEL handed the cell phone to MARINA and ordered her to switch on the speaker. Now, she was confused about what to do. Only ALLAH can save her but here all the situation was going to open but she controlled herself and talked to the speaker: 'Yes, this is MARINA FAYAZ', she answered in a confusing voice.

The speaker spoke: 'Mam, for your Italy visa we need some verification and we need some more details. Can you come to our office?'

The moment when DANIYA and DANIEL saw each other.

'Yes, tomorrow I will come to your office. Thank you for informing'. And now there was no one except the three were staring at each other when their stare was broken by another call. DR.SHURAIM was calling MARINA to the hospital.

'Excuse me, guys, I have to leave. There is an emergency'

She stood and went back. They were seeing her going but she didn't even look back. She opened her car, sat in the car, and put her head on the steering wheel. She was thanking her ALLAH for saving her today.

In all functions, she participated heartedly just because of two reasons. They were her best friends, her soul mates from her childhood. There was no restriction or any boundary for them in her heart. On the other hand, DANIYAL was thinking about that visa scene that happened in the restaurant but he ignored it. Though she was very happy for both of them, on the other hand, she had an idea somewhere if she will not go to their wedding, they can doubt MARINA in their heart.

After all the functions, they joined their duty again. Her visa process came to end and she started her packing. Her mother was not ready to send her alone but she told everybody that she is going for MBBS specialization and after its completion, she will come back but her mindset was different. She was going but she didn't even think to come back again. At night, when she was talking to her grandma:

'Grandma, you know, for two days, I am gathering power in my soul to go to them and tell them about my visa but I am failed again.'

'I can't see tears in her eyes.'

'She will call me back but I can't come'.

His voice was expressing her shouting broken soul and she continued: 'I am going there to meet now. Pray for me, I could successfully pass my test.'

She stood up from the bed and when she was getting out of her grandma's room:

'Wait till my arrival, I will back in an hour', she said in a gasp without seeing back to her grandma.

She bought purple flowers from her favorite flower shop and went to DANIEL's house. ALMIRA opened the door and she directly wants to his grandma's room with ALMIRA.

When DANIYA was coming to grandma's room, she listened MARINA speaking: 'I need to go, I can't stay here more'.

DANIYA entered the room: 'What happened and MINA where are you going'?

MARINA came towards her, she held her hand and handed her purple flowers and said: 'These are my last signs to you. You have to take care of yourself and your bastard boy. I...

I love you all.' While saying she was saying, everybody. DANIYA hugged her firmly and started crying. DANIEL was standing at the door. His doubts were right somewhere. She was not only going, but she was also leaving everyone behind.

'I am always with you and I will be always with you. Look! Don't cry or else I will never come back?

'ALMIRA, my girl, take care of my dear friend and your bastard brother. I will come soon.'

She went back to MRS.SAFINA and hugged her tightly. Now, it was time to leave. While leaving the room, her fighting and broken soul were confessing to her to stop. Her feet were growing weak step by step. She was feeling that someone should stop. Suddenly a voice touched her ears. It was DANIYA.

'I have promised you to come back but I can't live here more. Please, understand my situation. I will get weaker if you will cry'. That moment, she was coming towards the end of the room when she saw DANIEL and smiled her back.

She was leaving everyone behind her but she set a great example of self-sacrifice, she transferred all her lively breathings and shadow to her own companions. She surrendered herself with her sins before ALLAH.

'Tears, soul, heart, and eyes were killed by her own hands'.

CHAPTER NO.2: WILL

That night she memorized all her memories in one night.

'MAMMA!' she muttered with tears.

'Look where is your daughter standing today. You always prayed for my happy and peaceful life. There is no happiness, no peace, and no dreams. I am fed up with my life. I want to go. I don't want to be anymore.'

Today, this night was also less for weeping tears. She was the only hunt of helplessness and weakness at this night and the vein of patience was squeezed somewhere in her body.

Her condition was symbolizing that she was on the crest of helplessness but patience was not lost till the last moment.

The warmth's were the same but the rhythm of time was changed.

She only came here to find ALLAH.

'Sometimes a whole life becomes a shorter period to find ALLAH', she remembered her aunt's words.

She found ALLAH in these Eight years. Only HE was the one who glorified her patience and bonding grew stronger pulse by pulse. There was a lot of patience in her nature but there is no patience in her nature at this moment. She was weak again.

While putting her head down in her knees, her face, her hands her knees, and her heart got soaked with her tears. She was screeching. She was asking herself why is she alive yet.

Today, she believed that she is a sinner and she had loved that man which is no more in her fate. Instead, if she loved that GOD who is always there with everyone so she would not be facing such conditions inside her.

She neglected her feelings and went to pray for herself. Her whole figure was full of sweat. Suddenly, the Islamic recall to prayer echoed in her ears.

'HURRY TO PRAYERS. HURRY TO PRAYERS.
HURRY TO SUCCESS. HURRY TO SUCCESS.
ALLAH IS GREAT'.

Now, this worship was the only solution to build the equivalent level of patience again.

The whole night she recited SURAH FATIHA and SURAH ZUHA. She was ashamed of herself.

'OHH ALLAH, GUIDE ME TO THE RIGHT PATH', the room filled with her screaming.

The night passed in the same condition. When she was getting ready for the hospital, her feet were getting weak for the second time in her life. The first time, when she left everybody, and this time she had a fear of facing DR

SAVANNAH as she operated on her patient with her own hands.

Today, it was 28 April, it was her birthday. After one year, she came to her room. She was her mother. She can cry and she was crying. She was touching her every usable belonging which was touched by her eight years before.

'Don't wait for me at dinner, I will be late at night', she remembered her words.

She was calling her for days, months, and years. Without her, the years were looking like centuries. She always considered her daughter relentless. She considered that she cares for everybody except herself like herself is meant nothing to her and MARINA was always like that and now ALLAH had blessed her every individual blessing which she didn't know herself.

'MARINA, you have not only been harsh to everybody but you are also cruel to yourself', she whispered to herself.

'You have finished your life in this sacrifice', crying in tears she said to her daughter in her heart as she was listening to her. Last night, she was talking to her mother and now she is talking to her daughter.

She was talking to one of her patients when DR.HAROON came into her cabin. DR.HAROON was her neighbor in her apartment and he was the best psychiatrist in this hospital. MARINA solved many cases with him. Sometimes, they treated critical patients in days. The cases which DR.HAROON couldn't handle, she handled them in days and left DR.HAROON shocked.

He gave her a file and said: 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY DR.MARINA. He wished her joyfully. She saw the calendar placed on her table. SO, it was her day and she forgot her day.

He continued more: 'I am not only happy for your birthday, but I am happy for your wonderful success in the past years. This is the file of DR.SAVANNAH's patients. She had handed all her patients to you and DR. YE SHU WIE is agreed and satisfied with her decision.'

She was not shocked. She was thinking that only ALLAH is the ONLY EXPANDER. For Eight years, she was gathering money for her parents to send them to offer pilgrimage. In Italy, she also worked with many doctors and opened a new hospital for a deprived population. People coming into that hospital always blesses her with many good invocations.

She sometimes visits that hospital to check all the process but today it was a well-established hospital. It was a good deed in eyes of that population but she didn't understand why does she do so?

She always think about invocation that people give her. She was not as good as people took her identity. She wanted to become virtuous, she wanted to become superior, and she wanted to become acceptable by HIS GOD.

'MOM was asking about you for two days', he said.

'I will go to meet her at some time', she answered him.

'When are you going to PAKISTAN?' another difficult question which left her eyebrows still.

'I don't know'. She answered without thinking.

'Now you should think about your family', and he went out of the cabin and she was seeing him going when her phone ring bell distracted her. It was MRS.SAFINA's call.

'Yes, my lovely grandma, how are you?' she said cheerfully.

'How are you?' MINA. She questioned her instead of giving her an answer.

'I am fine. What about DANIYA?'

'When are you coming back?' There was silence. She didn't even answer back.

She asked back: 'When are you coming back?' No answer again.

'When are you coming back?'

'Soon', she replied.

'And when will this soon change into reality?' she asked Again.

'When ALLAH will be happy from me and when I will find HIM'. She rejected the call.

'I can't come back, how will I face everybody?' she whispered to herself.

MARINA applied for a visa for her parents and her both grandma's

After a month she received a parcel. When she opened that parcel, her face got soaked. Finally, her dreams were changing into reality. She offered a SALAH before ALLAH for HIS great reward.

She went to DR.HAROON's house to meet his mother.

Today she was very happy. She brought many things with her. Today his mother was also happy when she saw her at her home after many days. She told her about all that happened with her and said in a soft voice: 'I think I have found ALLAH and HE wants me to go back.'

'Your will to find HIM has completed its way', she answered her back.'

The very next day, she applied for her visa and she got a positive reply in three weeks.

She went to the hospital. After checking some patients, she went to DR. YE SHU WIE's cabin.

'Sir I need to talk to you', she didn't even waste her time and continued: 'These are some files. I think DR.SAVANNAH should come back on her duty because I am resigning and I am going back to my place.'

He answered: 'Our hospital needs such hardworking doctors like you. You continue your journey. In the future, if your mindset is to come again, then our hospital will be luckiest for your services.'

He handed her some documents and when she saw them, she was astounded. The documents possessed the experience letter of the gynecologist and psychiatrist along with the experience letter of a cardiac surgeon.

When she was leaving his cabin,

He continued: 'DR.MARINA, stay connected to this hospital for your patients.'

She thanked him and went on her journey.

During her journey, she stayed in MURREE in a hotel for two days. In the morning, she came out of the hotel and standstill at the edge of a beautiful sparkling stream. The passerby along the stream was looking at her. She was looking like a part of that atmosphere but she distracted all her thoughts and packed her belongings. After two hours, she reached outside her house. The main gate was opened and she entered in. Her eyes touched that garden. That garden was always colorful in her presence. But she went in and knocked on the door. Someone opened the door. It was REHMAN baba. She hugged him and waved him to be silent. She went to the lounge but there was no one. She said to REHMAN baba to make a detox for her and she directly went to grandma's room leaving her suitcase in the lounge.

When she entered her grandma's room, she saw everything was placed in the same place where she left all the things. She moved towards the dressing table where her childhood pictures were placed.

It was five O'clock and she knew that her grandma went for an ablution for offering ASAR Salah. When she came out of the dressing room, she saw someone standing on the dressing table holding MARINA's picture in her hand. When she came closer, she analyzed that it was MARINA. Eyes were believing.

Did she come after eight years?

MARINA was changed. There was a covered hijab on her head. Her eyes were sparkling with divine light.

There was a strange essence spread in her room after her arrival. The feelings were symbolizing of beautiful peaceful heaven. But there was something that distracted her.

'Yes, my grandma, this is MARINA FAYAZ', she answered without seeing her. Her voice touched her ears and she came out of thoughts. YES, her voice completely changed and her eyes were giving the signs of something more profound and prosperous. Yes, she was MARINA FAYAZ and she is MARINA FAYAZ.

So, her grandma was not wrong, she was completely changed. Her sweet voice was telling that she had secured her goal. Today, Grandma was also believing in ALLAH's graces. The heart gave judgment.

Grandma moved towards her and hugged her firmly. After eight years, she was feeling her aroma and her essence in her inner spirit.

'Finally, you are here.' She smiled after listening to her words.

'I am always here, my grandma.'

'I am here around you, I am around your belongings, and I am in your heart.'

She took her face in her hand and kissed her on her head.

Today, there was something that was changed. She was MARINA FAYYAZ but she was not the same character that left them eight years before. Her voice, her fragrance, and her eyes were more delightful than before. When she left them, every day without her was passing disheartened. Now, she was here, in her lap again.

When she passing through the corridor, she saw a suitcase. Suddenly, her eyes saw that the door of her mother- In-law's room was opened. She was shocked that at 5 O'clock, she always recites QURAN but her room's door is always closed at this time. Then she saw shoes out of her room, she began to think and her eyes compelled her to go in her room but when her ears touched the voice outside her room. Her feet grew weaker.

Did she come back?

The voice which touched her ears was hers?

And she slightly opened the door, MARINA was sleeping in her grandma's lap. The mother's heart gave judgment that she was here, she was back. She was in front of her.

'MARINA', a broken voice called her name. The heart began to sink but she gathered strength and without saying anything MARINA stood and ran towards her. She hugged her.

The eyes were not believing until yet. The hand was shivering with fear to touch her whether it was her self-deception.

MARINA held her face in her hand and said: 'I am always here'. The tears fell out of her eyes after her own daughter's voice. So she was back, she was here.

After many years, MARINA, her mother, and her grandma were sitting together, missing and memorizing many fond memories. Her mother and her grandma were noticing that she was very weak but they ignored her because today their house was filled up with ALLAH's blessings again.

'I have to go meet DANIYA, I will be there in an hour, don't sleep.' She said to her grandma.

'Today, I will not let you go. Don't you remember?

You said to me that I will be back in an hour and you came back after eight hours. I can't wait for you more.' She replied MARINA back with hope.

'I have to come back here. This place is my only last destination.' The eyes were still shinning.

When she knocked on the door, she had somewhere the idea that ALMIRA will open it but this time she was wrong. The person who opened the door was continuously seeing her and she was getting confused by his eyes.

'MARINA', he took her name. It was the first he took her full name. Her heart was shouting to digressed but the mind was somewhere supporting to go to the right path. But she didn't reply.

'MARINA, is this you?' the eyes were not moving away from her.

'Yes, MR.DANIYAL'. She waved her face and came in. His ears were shocked when he listened to her sweet voice and he was the one who finally believed at that moment that she was back. MARINA also waved him to be silent and she ran to his grandma's room. A similar picture continued at his house. His grandma was also not believing that she is back. Her feelings were also shouting that there was something which was changed. Today, he was still standing at the door and MARINA was making his grandma believe that she is back.

She said in her sweet voice: 'The one who lives in my heart calls me again and again and I ignored them. It is impossible.' 'Can you believe that your MARINA is still disrespectful?' She asked with a hilariousness in her eyes. His grandma laughed and kissed her back on her head.

'Now, we will not let you go, MINA.' The warming voice touched her ears and she passed an artificial smile him back. Now, the most difficult thing is to make DANIYA believe that I am here'. She said and heard the voice of broken glass. Everyone in the room was distracted.

She was coming towards MRS.SAFINA's room when she heard the same voice. After detecting that voice, a current attacked her body and she stood still began to listen to her changed voice. Suddenly, a glass fell from her hand and there everyone was distracted from their world.

MARINA was sitting with grandma, after listening to the voice of broken glass. She got an idea that this could be DANIYA but she didn't move from her place. She was expecting that DANIYA will come to her and the same thing happened. She entered the room and ran to approach her. MARINA was seeing all cases since her arrival at her place for that she was not shocked. She acted like she is habitual of such cases. DANIYA was staring at her appearance. But her heart urged her to touch her, to believe her appearance, and to save her in her heart. She did as her heart said and pressed MARINA in her soul.

'Where were you since the past years? You know the day without you was a day without purple flowers and their lost fragrance.' She said in one breath.

'My average heartbeats were only left to see you with my eyes', she was happily expressing her feelings.

'I wasn't present here but I was here somewhere'. She said with belief. 'And MISTER DANIEL look at my sister, why is she so much weak? I have decided that I will take her with me.' She said proudly.

'Hello, DR.MARINA, she is my property and before my permission, you have to take permission from Supreme Court', he waved his grandma.

Excuse me, MISTER BASTARD, after your property, before she is my sister and for your kind information, Supreme Court is always standing beside me. Am I right grandma?' she still confirmed.

Everyone in the room giggled in cheerful for she had come back and she will never go back. She left her weakened part behind her and now she was MARINA who had found ALLAH and HE is always with her.

She took MRS.SAFINA and DANIYA with her. The whole traveling journey passed silently but grandma and DANIYA were seeing her continuously while driving. Eyes were steadily smiling. There was a hollow cleft on the left side of her face. DANIYA noticed this dimple after eight years and now she was compelled to think that this cleft didn't appear before. Today, this was the first time in DANIYA's life, she was noticing her after her arrival.

When they reached home, everyone was sitting in a lounge. MARINA decided to tell them about a visa. She sits in her grandma's feet and held her hand and started speaking: 'Grandma, this is your deposit to me. Before going I took all your past ports along with me and I think I have fulfilled my duty.' Her tongue was shivering.

'In this envelope, there are your visas of pilgrimage and you all have to leave the day after tomorrow for flight.' Tears soaked her mother's eyes. MRS.SAFINA was feeling happy and blessed for her. She kissed her on her head.

'For all your hard work, ALLAH has blessed us HIS home.'
She said in her soft voice.

The whole night passed in many lovely conversations. After a whole day of fatigue, she entered her room. She came here after eight years and she was alone here too but today at this moment, she breathing in peace. She was feeling the shine of her eyes in her soul. The belongings were arranged at the same place but the eyes attracted that dairy. She went towards that dairy to pick it up but the feet grew weak and she stopped. She stopped herself. She remembered that promise to herself that she will keep herself away from that memory but she cannot preprend someone in her life again.

When DANIYA came into her room, she was not in her room. When she was leaving, she was a dairy. She moved some steps forward and picked up that dairy. A necklace fell from that dairy. She picked up that necklace. A necklace came in her mind that this necklace was the same which MARINA gifted her on MARINA's birthday before their marriage. When she opened the diary, she saw a picture pasted on one page in which they were standing together. When she turned over the page, there was DANIEL's picture on it. She was not shocked and even she didn't mind that because of their bond which was very strong from childhood. But the next page left her in a shocking state for it was half torn and the left page was empty. She closed the diary and when she turned back, she saw that MARINA was standing at her back smiling at her.

At this twinkling and gleaming morning, they both were feeling that no one can destroy their bond and no one can occur between them. MARINA gave all her precious breathings to DANIYA, only her life was left and MARINA had somewhere belief that if she will ask DANIYA for something, she will give her without asking any reason but she didn't want anything back because she had ALLAH. She had found HIM.

The house was sounding of stillness as there was no one. She was alone here too. She helped ADIL in setting up his new company in DUBAI. She dealt with many clients by herself and helped her brother to shift in DUBAI. It took a month to pass and she decided for her parents to live with her brother. After offering pilgrimage, her grandmothers traveled to their respective places back. They gave her many best invocations for what she had done for them.

It was two and a half months to her arrival, after leaving many days and many memories behind her she eventually took a step into her room. There was a strange fear in her heart, somewhere she will lose her composure and her steps will rumble at an invalid path.

'OHH ALLAH, GUIDE ME TO ME TO RIGHT PATH', she repeated those words. There was an abnormal quietness giving her the feeling that she was talking to herself. She was standing at the window. The air passing through the window was making her eyes closed. She closed her eyes and stood stiffly. Her opened lengthy hairs were moving due to glowing air.

That house which was always filled with her funny screams, her sparkling glamour's, and her laughing united family is lost somewhere. Her doubts were accurate. She took all the hilariousness of her house with her when she left her place. When she was talking to herself, her cell phone rang. When she saw the number on the screen, she was shocked that why DR.SHURAIM was calling her. When she picked up the call: 'HELLO, DR MARINA, This is DR.SHURAIM. Can you give me some minutes for a little discussion?'

'Yes, please continue.' she answered him angrily.

'As you have come back to your place, can you join our hospital again?' she was not expecting this request from him as she still remembers his harsh behavior.

'Our hospital will be luckiest for your services, I hope I will get a positive reply.' After listening to him, she remembered DR.YE SHU WIE's comments for her but it was not expected from DR.SHURAIM as he was an arrogant doctor. And she rejected the call.

When he was crossing through DR.SHURAIM's cabin, someone's voice touched his ears and he stopped. He entered his cabin while they were discussing something. When DR.SHURAIM saw DANIEL standing towards the door, he waved her to come near him.

'GOOD MORNING and a very warm welcome to this hospital, DR.MARINA', DANIEL wished her.

'DR.DANIEL, now this is your duty to give her company and yes, please introduce her to doctors of this hospital', he ordered DANIEL.

'And DR.MARINA, this is your file. From tomorrow, you are going to work on this case, and if you will face any problem just ask DR.DANIEL for help', he consoled her with words.

And they exited his cabin.

DANIYA was very happy for MARINA has joined the hospital again. When they were sitting in the cafeteria, MARINA was continuously noticing the environment of the hospital.

Everything was changed along with the behavior of DR.SHURAIM. She met many female doctors. But especially she was inspired by DR.HINA. She was a gynecologist of this hospital. She doesn't know why the environment of that hospital was making her addicted. When DANIYA, DR.HINA, and MARINA were busy talking,

'DR.MARINA, I think you should not only a doctor, but your profession should also be a social worker. Your qualities and your attitude reflect that you will help people and they will give many great summonses. She smiled at her advice, it was the first time someone was giving her advice which directly attracted her heart. Suddenly DANIEL distracted her.

'MINA, meet them, HAROON, BURHAN, ANAS and SHIZA, they only siblings of DR.SHURAIM and the only shining splendor of this hospital', she saw towards them and passed them a smile.

In an hour, they all made her friend just like they knew her since her childhood. Their nature was very lively. She was feeling that she is not sitting in a hospital, some mimics had gathered her. She was comfortable with all of them. There was no strange emotion regarding her new lives dancing around her. Today, MARINA was feeling there is something left in her life, which is still lively. When they were talking, someone's voice distracted their laugh.

'Hello, DR.DANIEL', this voice was very similar to her but when she turned her face and saw that standing man. She was shocked. 'MINA, meet him, He is the DR.HAROON, the most popular psychiatrist of this hospital.'

She stood and said shockingly: 'DR.HAROON, what are you doing here?' This time it was DR.HAROON's turn to go in a shocking mood. When DANIYA distracted them: 'How do you know each other?'

'DR.DANIYA, DR.MARINA worked with me in ITALY. She is not only a cardiac surgeon, but she is also the best gynecologist and superb psychiatrist.' DANIEL and DANIYA saw each other. They were feeling someone had burst a bomb on their head. They saw at MARINA who was hiding such important news from them.

'Even she is not only a doctor, but she had also memorized QURAN in just seven months, you guys should listen to her voice. There is sweet magic in her voice which traps everyone', another shock. MARINA was not seeing them. She was confused here what to do then.

'PSYCHIATRIST, GYNECOLOGIST, I am still shocked, you went there for the specialization but here what we are listening to. You have hidden such a piece of important news.'
DANIYA was complaining to her.

'Now, our hospital has owned a new all-rounder doctor, Miss DANIYA. I must say DR.MARINA you should start exorcism, it will increase your profession and patients will come to you for your special medicines', BURHAN winked his eye to MARINA and everyone laughed here.

'No, DR.DANIYA, keep calm, I will give more shocking news regarding DR. MARINA later', DR.HAROON added and here everybody laughed.

Sitting on a folding chair, hands on the table, and a file in her hand, she opened the file given by DR.SHURAIM. Now, from tomorrow, she will be going on to duty but when she went through the reported case in the file, a strange disquietness and nervousness gathered around her soul. Before going through the case, her condition was normal but she was thinking that this kind of case also happens in real life. She opened the file again to read the name of the patient.

'SAAD HASHIM', she read it loudly. So from tomorrow, a new journey will start.

Will she able to handle that patient?

Will MARINA be able to cure his illness?

When she read the label stuck outside her cabin, a smile appeared on her face. The label describes

*'DR.MARINA
CARDIAC SURGEON
GYNECOLOGIST
PSYCHIATRIST'*

And she knocked on the door. The professional doctor sitting inside the room was shocked that who was that but when she didn't respond, DANIYA entered her room.

'SO, you were there. Listen you don't permission to enter my room. You can come in without knocking on the door.'

'SO, miss ALL-ROUNDER, how are you feeling today?' she asked.

'I am feeling very lucky to see you here but I am not an all-rounder.'

'Don't you know, the label stuck outside your room proves that DR.MARINA is not only a cardiac surgeon but she is a doctor who knows everything?'

'GYNECOLOGY PSYCHOLOGY HEART SURGERY

Wait a plus point is still left which, you are a brilliant memorizer of that gold book', DANIYA was counting proudly and she was shocked at DR.HAROON's that how can he do that.

'By the way, I must go with the advice of BURHAN, he was correct. You should also start exorcism',

'Who was correct?' DANIEL distracted them.

'Excuse me, Mister Doctor, you are not allowed to enter this room without my permission', MARINA acted.

'MINA, remember, I am DANIEL, your childhood friend. And friends don't need permission'.

'But you need to take permission because you are not only my friend, you are a big blackmailer. DANIYA, do you know when I was coming to the hospital, I saw him laughing with SHIZA', MARINA complained here.

'DANIEL, You cheater. MINA, I don't want to live with this man. He doesn't love me. Though, he only passes her beautiful moments with other girls.'

'HELLO! Girls, I am not a cheater, I am DANIEL. You girls are jealous, everybody ignores you and talks to me', He proudly answered.

'JEALOUS, my foot, I am going to throw you in hell this time.' MARINA was laughing to see them fighting.

'And I am also going to snatch your all breathings' DANIYA warned him. DANIEL saw at MARINA as if she is agreed with DANIYA.

MARINA broke the silence between them after a minute:

'What happened, I think you both should carry on. I am enjoying this movie',

'I am not going to live with this fool, stupid boy anymore and this is my last decision', DANIEL put his hand on his head and said: 'How will I sleep at night? Do you know MINA this girl has something in it? At night, she snores with her bursting throat, but look at me. I didn't say a word. Sometimes she misbehaves with me but I didn't say a word because I am addicted to her nature', He was talking like he was soothing DANIYA with his words.

'Look at my innocence and honesty, I didn't say a word to my wife and I am only obedient to her.'

'Hello, if MINA calls you BASTARD, so you are bastard, you are a fool, your stupid, you are a bloody rascal and by the way GO TO HELL WITH YOUR OBEDIENT', she was leaving the room when MARINA stopped her while laughing: 'Here, you don't need to be angry. Look at his innocent face. He was only making fun of you', DANIEL winked an eye at MARINA and added: 'Logically, I should leave her because of her loud snoring's and her daily torture but I cannot. Actually, I am not too harsh to everyone', he said proudly.

DANIYA threw a pillow on him but he caught it. MARINA was cheerfully enjoying their fight when DANIEL started his flirt ness: 'my dear girl, I am captured by your love, my beloved!', as he said, DANIYA threw another pillow on him.

'Excuse me, you guys should carry this movie, I have to meet my new patient', she left the room while laughing.

When she moving towards the ward, on her every track her heartbeat was flowing fast, on her every step the body was shivering with fear, on her every footstep the emotions were stopping her for she knew if she will go there, she will not be able to come back again.

She went to the ward. He was lying on the bed and his eyes were closed but she knew he was not sleeping. His face was looking pale. There were many lines on his hands that were expressing that he had tortured himself to an extent.

'MR.SAAD', she called his name, he opened his eyes and saw a doctor standing next to his bed and her eyes were in the file.

'So MR.SAAD, will you introduce yourself?' she softly asked. 'I think the coat which you are wearing is symbolizing that you are a doctor, not the owner of any company and I am not your employee', his answer left her to be scarier. 'MR.SAAD, I am a doctor, I not showing you my label but I am just trying to tell you that a doctor can also be a friend and a friend is always kind and sympathetic to another friend. All the people lying in this ward are not only my patients but they call me their family members. The reason is not I am a popular doctor, the end is that I treat them as my friends and my family members', she consoled him and her words were rendering his heart. This was the first time he heard a doctor talking to him like that. He saw that she was a little frightened of him but he still examined her.

'Friend', he passed an artificial smile. 'No one can be a friend of a helpless and inadequate patient', a tear fell from her eyes as she was overhearing him. 'Since my childhood, I am suffering from this illness and I am living alone. I have no friends, no sympathy, and no partner. No one has its treatment. A professional doctor cannot even understand my pain. I am addicted to live alone', she was not seeing him but her feelings were expressing that he was telling her situation to her.

'Maybe, ALLAH has sent me to be your friend', she answered with tears in her eyes. 'Everyone in this world is disabled and feeble. Sometimes, ALLAH examines us to believe HIM, to believe HIS oneness, to believe the blessing HE has provided us, and to be close to HIM.

'GLORY TO BE ALLAH AND ALL THE PRAISE BE TO ALLAH AND THERE IS NONE WORTHY OF WORSHIP, AND ALLAH IS THE GREATEST AND THERE IS NO MIGHT OR POWER EXCEPT WITH ALLAH, THE EXALTED, THE GREAT ONE.' She was making him believe in his power.

If you are an ill person, that doesn't mean that people will not talk to you. There you are mistaken. If someone is not moving towards you, you should move towards them to make them feel that you are special', she was revealing to him.

'I also have many weaknesses but I am not pessimistic. You should not leave the finger of hope. HE will hand over your life to you but after some patience and many trials', he saw in her shining and smiling eyes.

'This is my contact number, for any help or any query, you can call me, I will feel happy to help my new friend', she gave him a paper and went on her way. He saw her going.

The whole night, he was thinking about what she said to him and waiting for the next day to see her again.

Furthermore, she was proceeding throughout that file. She concluded that his new patient was not only a heart patient but he also has some psychological disorders. No, he was not a psychological patient but there his way of thinking made him more disabled. His loneliness left him isolated in his life.

When she entered the ward, he was sitting on his bed. The nurse told her that he had eaten nothing since last night. She saw him whose face was exposing the perception of curiosity. She went towards his bed.

'So MR.SAAD, how are you?' she asked him while holding his reports. There was a complete hush.

*'MR.SAAD, I think you have not accepted my friend request?'
'I cannot give you anything. I am an incomplete person. Will* you make a friend who is an incomplete person with no abilities?'

'Every doctor working in this hospital is incomplete. The patients in this ward are incomplete. But they only ask for the help of ALLAH. They don't lose hope. BRO! Your sister is there to heal you.' He saw her who was seeing him now. He passed a smile.

'OH MY GOD! You know how to smile. I am surprised.'

She said with a hilariousness in her eyes.

'So come on, just tell me, from when you are admitted to this hospital? 'I am admitted five months ago in this hospital. In these five months, only two doctors came to treat me but as they went, they never came back.'

'Is there anyone who comes to meet you?'

'My parents came to meet me in the beginning, but I refused them that I don't want to meet them', she understood the first reason for his loneliness.

'What are your qualifications? I indicate here what are your past time favorites? What are your aspirations?' she was asking with an interest.

'I have only occupied a distinction in secondary education which I have completed privately because any conservatory didn't accept me for my illness. They just said that if I will study with normal candidates, so this disease can also spread from me to them.

Secondly, I have no dreams, I don't want to occupy any professional degree', now she got the reason of no hope in his life.

'Why are you asking?' she was not seeing him.

'There is a purpose. Actually, I want to write a profile on one of my patients and I think you are the one but what will I write??' her expressions were showing hopelessness which enforced him to tell everything about his life and he started telling:

'Moving abroad for higher education is nothing less than a dream for a major chunk of Pakistan students. I was one of them before applying in intermediate but my eyes began to look for more respectable. No one can live without dreams in his eyes, after looking at my reports, I started losing hope in my life. Now, I have nothing.' He took a breath and started again:

'I always wanted to see myself as an army officer, I always wanted to save my country from opponents, and I always wanted to give my life for my countrymen. My dreams became my adversary. Between all these dreams, I forgot that How can I save my country if I cannot save my own self', Grief was dying from his eyes.

'GREAT', she gave him strength. 'But remember, this is your test. HE is examining you and HE only examines the ones who are believers and to whom HE loves very much. You only have to be patient and you should pray to HIM to bless you endurance.

AND ALLAH IS EVER ABLE TO ALL THINGS', she recited a verse.

'HE will bless you with a victory but after taking distinction in your test. Now, the decision is yours.' Today, he was understanding all the conversation held between them and he owned a little faith in himself.

'From tomorrow, we will begin with some workouts if there will be GOD'S will so be prepared. You will be getting out of this ward soon', and she went after giving some precautions to the nurse.

She didn't come to meet them since the case was commenced. This night, she was also conceiving about him when DANIYA came into her room and distracted her.

Feelings were alike this night. Today, her heart still smiles when she sees her.

Today, she disregards her every problem when she sees her.

Today, her heartbeat still becomes quick when she sees her.

Today, her optics remain to see her. She was conceding every quotation of friendship today.

This was harmony, this was bonding, and this was kindness.

After many years, the bond which occurred between them in childhood was still powerful. Still, if they don't talk to each other even a single day, they don't resist.

Today, she met MARINA as if she had not seen her for days. They talked a lot. Their conversation was diverted by a call. MARINA went out of her room to talk and she was standing at the window. She again came towards that dairy. When she was taking it in her hand, she saw a torn hidden page in the book placed on the same table. There was poetry written by MARINA. She opened her diary, the page fitted to that half-torn page in her diary. When she read the name written on the last line, she felt that someone has seized her eyes. MARINA's smiling face came in front of her eyes and she realized why she left them. At that moment, the tears fell from her eyes. She thought that MARINA had donated her breathings and heart to her. Now she was living without them. She had fulfilled the morality of friendship. She threw the page under the table and ran out of her room.

When MARINA came into the room, no one was there. She called her back but she didn't pick her call.

Today she met his parents and she implemented a sticker of hope to their hearts. Essentially, it was a promise to herself to save someone's life. She feels to him that

He could exist in his life.....

He could accomplish his dreams.....

He could breathe in the fresh air.....

He could admire someone.....

She possessed absolute faith in ALLAH and made him able to be comfortable with all the doctors working in that hospital.

And today she took him to his cabin to feel some the originality, crust, and glow of the planet and as befallen as she thought. He was consistently observing her room and she smiled for his observing. She had a hope that if he is reading the environment today, SO, he will communicate to people tomorrow. She was studying a case sitting on her chair when BURHAN, HAROON, ANAS, and SHIZA came in with an old lady. That old lady was their mother. She laughed by thinking that the people working all over the hospital knew DR.SHURAIM's family. And his mother came to her for her medication

While treating her, she noticed that he was talking with those three guys but his eyes were imagining something more different than what he wants. His eyes were enduringly viewing SHIZA standing towards MARINA. When he saw that MARINA was seeing him, he directed his face to them. He was smiling with them as it feels, he was smiling the first time in his life. MARINA was understanding how to solve his dilemma of loneliness.

The very next day, she called BURHAN, HAROON, and ANAS to meet her. She thought to convince them to make SAAD comfortable with them. When she was sitting in the cafeteria, they came energetically and without wasting any minute she said:

'Guys, I want to ask you something, Actually, I don't want to ask I want your help.'

'Yes, we are always here to help you but in return, we need lively help from you', BURHAN stared at her.

'I just want to ask you guys, in fact, I don't want to ask it's my order to you guys. I want you guys to make SAAD pleased with you. He is very alone in his life, he needs some friends.

He needs someone to overcome his loneliness. I have somewhere an idea that you guys belong to his age group. You three can heal his illness. I will very be obliged to you all', she completed.

'Does he has a sweetheart?' ANAS asked hilariously.

'Sweetheart?'

'He means to say a GIRLFRIEND', HAROON corrected. MARINA began to laugh. Their stupid, funny actions were popular in the hospital.

'You will also find a girlfriend for him but sooner or later. Now we have to start our performance from today'.

'By the way, DR.MINA, you must be bored here because there is no comparison with the crazy lifestyle abroad, Right? BURHAN asked proudly.

'You have more of a 'WHITE BOY' lifestyle in LAHORE than I have in ITALY', she waved over his smoking box.

'How do you know?' he asked again.

'I think you have forgotten that you are standing in front of DR.MARINA FAYAZ', HAROON replied.

'FACEBOOK, my boy', MARINA said.

'Oh, so you finally accepted my friend request?'

'Don't act so cocky, you're on a limited profile', she answered proudly.

'Do check out one of my albums, though.

It's called 'BURHAN's EXPERIENCE', he said proudly.

'BURHAN's EXPERIENCE?' she was shocked.

'Yeah, it's mostly workout pictures. I take my gymming very seriously and from now on I will update my album with the name 'BURHAN's GROOMING EXPERIENCE' just for SAAD'.

'Oh, at least you are serious about something, looks funny'.

'If you don't believe me, just check for yourself', he waved towards his arms. He was continuously smoking and all their conversation was being filmed on MARINA's cell phone.

'OH... MY GOD... she reacted.

'Exactly, everyone has the same reaction:

'OH... MY...GOD'

When they were talking, DANIEL came into her cabin and BURHAN turned over his head towards the window.

'Why you are being so rude. Turn around, man', as DANIEL knew all his actions.

'BURHAN, why do you have tears in your eyes?', but he still asked, due to smoking his eyes were watery and MARINA captured his picture and commented:

'For your album. What happened? You don't look so well', she winked her eye.

'Are you nauseated? Shall I give you MOTILIUM?' she asked him.

'He will be fine in a second. Our little bin', HAROON stood up from his chair and punched his stomach. All the smoke spread around him and they started laughing.

'MY GOD!' Do you have no shame? Do your brother know of these vile habits?'

'Just wait till DR.SHURAIM hears of this; He'll make mincemeat out of your privates!' DANIEL said.

'Don't worry, my boy, I'll show him all his stupid actions', MARINA took her cell phone in her hand and waved to DANIEL.

Now, a horror laugh gathered her cabin.

She came to the hospital regularly, tried many times to talk to her but never has such power. She always went towards her cabin but her footstep stopped herself but today she gathered strength and called her to fountain daisy.

MARINA was anxious after listening to her voice. When she reached, she saw her sitting towards the pool and there was something in her hand. She went to her and sit next to her.

*There was a thoroughgoing muteness between them.
MARINA was seeing the shining lanterns spread around them and suddenly her eyes that piece of paper in DANIYA's hand.*

She softly took that paper from her and saw it. She was feeling that her eyes are closed. So, the last judgment was here. Heartbeat began to run fast and all gasps were stopped for a minute. There were no words to express her sincerity.

The only thought to escape from here and she stood, the steps were picking up power all behind her but she tried to walk.

'Today, if you went, you will never be able to see me again', ears listened to her voice.

'This is just trash, don't ever believe it', MARINA threw the paper on the floor.

'Yes, this is trash. Everything around you proves to be trash even your life, isn't it?' she shouted.

'A standing boy in the picture in your diary, A poetry written by you for that boy, the name written at the end of that poetry, your beating heart, your broken shiny eyes, and your uncontrolled tongue, all the things are trash. That is the reason, I called you here to speak because I only believe you.' DANIYA came closer.

'You don't even care for yourself, you sacrificed your breathings to save my happy life. Is this justice?' she was looking at her with unlocked eyes.

'I deserve a severe penalty. Whatever you will decide, I will agree', MARINA could not face her.

'MARINA, MARINA, MARINA....'

'I left this city just not to come between both of you. It was just a mistake of my life and ALLAH punished me for Eight years. I am still standing there for you always. If I will get a prospect to surrender my left breathings for you, I will donate you again. I cannot grieve from your resentment', the voice was proving that she was crying.

'To love someone is not a mistake, to hide this love is a big mistake', a soft voice heard her ears.

'I have never wished to see him with me, I don't love him anymore. I am only a friend to him, but to you, I am your life', the voice was proving hardness.

*'Love never finishes from the heart...
'But my love is always incomplete..... (forcing her to believe her) my journey was always incomplete.....

'Are you still cross?' she asked.

'You have driven me crazy, MINA, I can still give him...

'Shut up, DANIYA, my silence, and my self-control don't mean that you can say anything. From this minute, forget this matter', the voice was proving determinants.

'I can do anything for you and you will always be precious for me', she tightly hugged DANIYA.

'Don't ever think about it', she dried her face from tears, left her hand, and went on. DANIYA was looking at her and in a minute she decided to handover MARINA's recorded voice to DANIEL.

The heart always appears in connecting, always compels to lose its authority, and always enforces to keep its preferred ones in front of eyes but mind fights against it to hate all favored people.

The heart compelled three of them to keep their eyes reopened the whole night.

Obviously, how could they sleep?

Their feelings, their plans, their thoughts, and their reactions were the same from the beginning.

Similarly, every sensation was equivalent to this night.

DANIYA was standing in front of the window somewhere staring at the sky. Everything in the sky was looking empty this time.

DANIEL was lying on the bed somewhere gazing at the moving fan on the fence. While seeing at the moving fan, he was also seeing DANIYA standing at the window, MARINA was somewhere in his thoughts. Remembering all the previous pictures in his mind, her admitting in hospital, a sudden change in her character, her leaving everyone behind her.

MARINA was sitting on the floor of her room, relaxing her back on her bed, getting all the precious memories of their friendship.

They were assuming that love should not exist in this world anymore, the friendship that occurred between them was more than a love (Considering themselves as a sinner)

The very next day they fixed up themselves in their mission and today they brought him in the garden of the hospital.

They all were sitting on the bench, there was a slight conversation between them. After many days, he was going through such feelings, it was making him able to assume that he had seen after many eras. Many changes were occurring in this process. Quickly and without any trials and hard-work, they all became his friends. Without any struggles, they made him comfortable with them. He didn't even have any inkling of what was happening with him. A sudden coming of a doctor in his life, an unexpected sharing of his life experiences with her, and an immediate making that new boys his friends. He was yielding with them that how much he is addicted to sports, how much he is addicted to gymming, and how much he loves to explore himself in this world.

When he was passing through the hallway, he saw her smiling with them. He was feeling that she smiles artificially. All her tape-recorded voice wandered in his mind. She doesn't look like that. In their union and companionship, they fulfilled many promises for each other as they were affectionate to each other but they never thought that she will drop such a significant step from them.

On the contrary, after what all happened last night, she could not even face them, her mindset was to focus on this case as she was seeing SAAD today with her eyes, there came hope in her eyes that He will be better soon.

Now, it was happening daily, they were coming regularly to meet him. They brought him daily to the garden.

They were many discussions and many sensations bestowed between them.....

Sometimes in a week or two, they took him out of the hospital. A willingness and an eagerness came in his character which an attacked result in his reports in the form of betterment.

Till when she went to meet him in his ward, she always heard that he had gone to pray SALAH to the mosque.

Previously, she was worried for him that if he might hurt himself but she gave him space for some time.

He was individually taking responsibility for himself..... He began to exercise, he started to go to the mosque regularly...

He rose to examine books of different subjects regularly...

Every patient in his ward was surprised to see betterment in his illness.

It was just because of MARINA, she delivered him a positive moral daily as it was a part of her habit.

A variation in his life transformed a smile on his face, he knew that these modifications were due to only one personality, although, he saw her once in his life, eyes just spotted that face in his heart. MARINA was very happy as all the incidents were according to what she thought and what she decided.

She was acknowledged around his warmth for SHIZA. MARINA looked at each view magnificently as it was very distinct and innovative for her as he was dreaming for someone...

Confidences and desires were the ultimate designs...

There was a change in his personality, there was a change in the color of his eyes, and there was an honor shining from his personage.

Even he was shifted to his house from the hospital. He only came two days in a week from his treatment and to meet all his new friends and doctors in the hospital. MARINA's eyes were looking on her watch waiting for his arrival suddenly someone knocked on her cabin's door. A smile appeared on her face but the one who entered her cabin was DANIEL and when she saw him, She turned down on her face to file placed on her table.

'DR.MARINA', he again took her full name, 'This is the file of a new case, we'll be working on this case from tomorrow together', he pressed the word 'together'. I think we should wait for some time because I am still working on the same case and it will close soon. You know about that patient 'SAAD', he will be alright in some days.

'But we have not arranged any heart donor for him till yet'

'I tested many patients, but no one's blood group matched to his blood group and there are also suffering from many minor diseases, we cannot select such donor, we need a strong and powerful heart to match with his body', her eyes were still on her watch and at same minute her cell phone rang.

'Yes, this is DR.MARINA', after listening to against speaker she replied:

'Send him to my cabin', now her face was smiling.

It happened perpetually and the same repeated today as well.

When he came to the hospital, a strange environment gathered around the hospital. All the working staff of the hospital comes to meet him as he was a celebrity, the patients of that ward where he stayed for more than five months come to meet him as he was their only inspiration to live in life.

His only purpose was to see someone with his eyes. It was only a reason that he comes to meet all the doctors and his friends at the hospital because he knew that she was somewhere along by DR.MARINA but today he never thought that it will happen with him...

They both going were towards MARINA's room, although their selected path was not the same, their way was corresponding. When she was going to her room, she got accidentally knocked by someone and all the water in her hand spilled on her clothes. Expressing her anger, she stared at the person standing against her. The against person was busy talking with someone on the phone so he just said 'SORRY' by waving his hand and passed but she stopped him by calling:

'Excuse me, MISTER!' in her angry voice, he saw her back. 'Can't you see an alive girl walking?' The person was standing still and was continuously seeing her. She was saying something in her language but he was not listening to her. She waved her hand in front of his eyes and by distraction, he came into his world.

'Are you listening to me?' she questioned him
'God has given you eyes to see everywhere and walk properly'

he answered her shamelessly, 'By the way, I can see an alive girl walking but that alive can't see that she had spilled all the water on my branded shoes', she was shocked on his answers. Before she saw him she recognized him that he was MARINA's patient but on his answers, she said: 'FOOL', and she pushed him and went on her way but waving her hairs.

Still, he was seeing her going. A mischievous smile shined on his face. Today, it was a lucky day for him as he had seen her. Happily, he went to her room but when he reached there, his steps stopped and he began to listen to her voice again in MARINA's room

She was complaining to MARINA about him

'Fool, rascal, silly, he cannot even see an alive girl walking', she was shouting. When MARINA saw her wet clothes, her expressions were questioning and she questioned her: 'What happened? Where are coming from?'

'That stupid, insane, crazy boy, instead of being ashamed of himself, he was scolding me that I have spilled water on his so-called brand shoes, he didn't even see that he has spilled water on my clothes', while she was talking MARINA saw SAAD standing on the door, he was laughing on her complains and she understood all the matter. 'I mean no grieve on what he did', she was continuously saying, she didn't even know that MARINA laughing.

'Who was that person?' instead of knowing she asked her.

'Your patient... What was his name...?'

Yups! SAAD HASHIM', the first time she took his name.

'By the way, you both guys can live unitedly easily', MARINA winked her eye to SAAD and she didn't even know that he was standing on the door. 'What did you say?' she felt that she had listened to something wrong.

'I mean to say I will talk to him, just tell me why did you come here?

'Why did I come here?', as if she forgot.

She turned back and saw him smiling. Then, she saw MARINA who was smiling too...

'SCORE BALANCED', he taunted.

'INSANE boy', she pushed him away and went on his way.

'I picked up my phone constantly, I dialed her number on the dial pad, I put the receiver on my ears to listen to her voice but I reject the call because I could not face her voice and I could not face herself', she was distributing her anxiety to grandma. Grandma had somewhere the notion that she will get to know about all the difficulty, which was the reason behind telling MARINA to tell everybody...

'Hello! Intelligent people', (how could be it probable that a friend memorize her another companion and that companion doesn't even come to meet her) when they both welcomed to her voice, they were also feeling the likewise sensations for friendship.

'Why are you not coming to the hospital? Is everything alright?' MARINA asked frequently. 'She has something to tell you..., her grandma added. There was a complete muteness. MARINA was gazing at both of them and after a while, she got her answer by herself. The room was filled with her wanton laughter.

'I am so, really glad to hear that!!

OHH...MY...GOD!!

I mean seriously...' A peculiar delight hunch congregated her intellect. She ran towards DANIYA and hugged her strongly.

Now, there was only thought in the mind that there was no quarrel split between them, a thought that she told nothing to DANIEL (although she was witless). She didn't even know that she had recorded her voice and DANIEL had heard her recording. They both were considering themselves as her offenders.

It was feeling like he is a traveler of the seashore, GOD has honored him wings to fly, Eyes are wandering everywhere to catch every artistic feeling but NO...

*Eyes were rebelling that till now he wants only one thing...
THING...*

No, she is not a thing, she is an alive girl (a grin surfaced on his face) He was standing on the window gazing at that moon which was always part of their conversation. Her speeches reflect the shining of the moon. Today, this night, he was remembering every held conversation between them.

MARINA was correct, humans have the power to see fantasies...

MARINA was correct, humans affirm habits...

MARINA was correct, Life is a promise to GOD...

MARINA was correct, desperation and recklessness are great components of immorality...

MARINA was correct, a mortal man travels in space due to his dreams...

He was also flying due to his newborn dream but someone was there who evaded his wings and he knows better who was that someone.....

The cold breeze passing by the window made him able to close his eyes but he wasn't able to close his eyes because a face came in front of his eyes.

She brought her to the hospital for proper consultation from DR.HINA, DANIYA somewhere feels that MARINA can also tackle her case but MARINA didn't agree for she doesn't want to go through any hazard. The time was passing, she took her for a daily walk. She came to the hospital for duty too and now she was managing another case which was just similar to SAAD. On the contrary, SAAD visited the hospital twice a week for his treatment. Basically, his treatment was just reason, he only came here to meet his 'MINES'

OHH! I forgot to tell you about 'MINES'

He calls his friends 'MINES' passionately.

Today, he will have to come to the hospital because they had to achieve a mission.

(SIX DAYS AND GIRL'S IN YOUR FACE)

Instantly, he came to MARINA's cabin, and that question which she presumed from him, he asked the same question:

'Where are MINES?'

She was answering him as they came into her cabin, 'Hello, everybody', BURHAN interrupted.

'We have no time to sit, we have to begin with our practice',

'Excuse me guys, may I ask, you are talking about which 'PRACTICE' and by the way, I must acknowledge you guys that this time is for his treatment', she added.

'That is something very personal, we can't tell about that practice and he didn't need any treatment. He is fine',

'Hey, we can't begin with our practice without telling her. Obviously, she is my sister and she has the right to know everything', she felt that SAAD was flattering her. He came closer to where she was sitting, held her hand, and said: 'We are starting a mission',

'Which mission', she asked.

'Six days and girl's in your face', HAROON answered.

'Actually, he has fallen with someone but he doesn't know how to handle all this matter', they didn't even know that the girl which he has fallen for was their own sister. MARINA began to see SAAD and SAAD winked his eye.

'Have you guys gone mad? DR.SHURAIM will snatch your all enjoyments...

'It will happen when he will get to know. Who will tell him? And by the way, he has never fallen for someone that doesn't mean we are wrong. We have the right to our life', BURHAN angrily responded.

'He is your brother', she reminded him.

'YA! Exactly he is my brother, not my supervisor....

‘Now what do I do?’ SAAD asked.

‘You don’t do anything, now whatever has to be done, I will do. You just do as I say. I have a plan’, BURHAN continued. MARINA was looking at SAAD. Everything was changed. He doesn’t even look like the previous version.

Do love changes a person? It was not only a question, it was big problem of her life.

‘Six days and girl’s in your face’, BURHAN said.

‘Only six days’, he finalized more.

‘WAOOO!! But why six days?’ SAAD asked.

‘Because I don’t work on SUNDAY’, BURHAN proudly answered.

‘I have theory about girls’.

‘For GOD’s sake, this is not your marriage bureau’, MARINA angrily interrupted. The guys who were sitting unitedly, immediately separated and saw her.

‘I have a theory about girls. The more you run after them, the more they will run away from you’

‘But if you run away from them, they will be confused and will run after you to find out the reason of their confusion And we have to take advantage of such a confusion of confused girl’, BURHAN continued and one who was putting her ears in their conversation was shocked.

‘Even I’m confused!!’ SAAD commented.

‘That you are...from childhood!! That can’t be helped...

‘But trust me, do as I say’, he said proudly.

‘Excuse me, this is my cabin and you are chattering about girls’, MARINA frequently shoot out her gun.

‘OHH! My sister, we are talking about girls excluding you’, it was SAAD.

*‘But the one for whom you are talking is also not like that....
She whispered to him.*

‘She will kick out your head’, a smile appeared on his face when he listened her name. Their conversation was never ending. BURHAN visited daily and taught him lessons daily. She only saw them and smiled.

It was six months since she came here.

Before coming here, before facing everyone there was an unusual alarming inside her. She has a meditation that if she will have to go back to ITALY.

Will she be able to go back?

Will she drop them in the related position as earlier?

But all of the uncertainties were misplaced. There was a day when she thought for her self-destruction, the day when she was being in the court of her friend and today she is standing in her biography, everything is looking flawless...

Everything is looking foolproof precise...

Just in time, she came from beyond to hither...

There was something complete sounding in the hospital. There was a great friendship occurred between her and all the young lively smiley population.

The case which was her first horrible case to handle her patient came to end and her patient SAAD and he was very blithe and gratified in his life,

All of the significant, she didn't even think that he will reach in his real rocking life excessively early.

(Her most inestimable goal was holding in front of her in the presentation of reality. The goal which she dreamt for her infancy, sending her guardians to HIS home.)

She only understands that she has arrived at the strategy where everything seems to be orthodox.

Now, there was no eagerness...

(There was only tremendous gratitude to ALLAH)

Friendship is the most competent part of an individual's life but the habits in an individual's life demoralize life, make the physique vulnerable.

Her condition was expressing the same feelings. There was a great friendship between them in fact when MARINA went to ITALY they talked once in a blue moon but nowadays she was in a habit.

MARINA was taking her care, she brought her to the hospital, and she talked to her too greatly.

DANIYA was feeling like the days of her life are lacking moderately and someone has held her hand. She plucked up car latchkeys, saw the snoozing DANIEL, passed a smile, and went on her way.

She didn't even know who was on the against of receiver but what she listened, she was undergoing like someone has taken out her survival.

What came about?

A few hours before, she met her and the news which she got was true or someone has addressed her a piece of fake news?

'Will meet tomorrow... MARINA had spoken to DANIYA even DANIYA was not ready to let her go...

Today, she ran as comparable to that day when DANIYA ran for her when she was admitted to the hospital...

There were suspicions in her mind which she didn't want to think.

The hospital was half an hour away from her home but she reached it in fifteen minutes. The surroundings were ordinary, it didn't look like there was an accident, but by conforming from the reception she got to know that the ambulance has gone to receive the body.

'BODY', they charged her deceased although she was an alive human. She waited for an hour and at this hour, what came to her mind was very disastrous, even she could not think but don't know what was happening.

That instant was very strange when she saw her coming on a stretcher, she was lying like an exhausted and empty entity full of blood on the bed.

(MARINA was the one who eternally promises her to give her living and breath was surviving nevertheless still, and she was the one who cannot give anything to her)

She was watching her going to ICU.

Time was behaving like a playing person here which brought a human from living respire to deadly respire. The one who went to ICU for her patient's operation. Today, she was brought to ICU for her operation.

If she stopped her recalling, so DANIYA would not be facing such a condition. MARINA was looking at standing DANIEL, moreover, waiting for the doctor.

She also granted her blood to her...

She could not bear the devised scene around her so she ran from there and came to her cabin.

There was a consummate absence of light in her cabin...

There was a consummate absence of speech in her cabin but she was feeling an unpleasant sound around her...

There was a consummate absence of human voices in her cabin but she was feeling that someone has negligently seized her brightness...

A grey shadow felt by her. When she uplifted her face, he was sitting next to her.

'SHE HAD GONE...

HE HAD LEFT US', it was a confirmation to reality, he was sitting next to her, he was screaming.

ALTHOUGH he knows that why MARINA was sitting alone,

ALTHOUGH he knows all the truth,

ALTHOUGH he knows that she falls for DANIYA

But he came here to console her.

But who was there, there was only a Memory,

'Will meet tomorrow', (a shining memory or a memory with blackness in itself)

CHAPTER NO.3:

'BACK TO LIFE'

He followed her car until the cemetery as he knows that she will go to meet her. It was a customary action for her to go to the graveyard at 11 AM.

It happens regularly, when MARINA arrived in the graveyard, the scent of that sand,

And that fantasy continually shines around the graveyard because she embeds the aromatic flowers on her coffin.

Daily, she speaks her moods even the passers-by feels odd and he daily follows her to the graveyard to listen to what she shares with her.

She also revisited today at the same interval.

Sitting adjacent to her grave, she was sharing her detachment.

'It was always my petition to ALLAH to keep this secret as a secret till my opened eyes and unlocked gasps', he was listening MARINA.

'Hopefully, if you and yourself would be unknown to this news so you would be safe...

Perhaps, you would be living...

Maybe, you would be with me...'

'I told you to believe me...

www.neweramagazine.com

I told you that I didn't love him anymore...

I told you to stay beside me...'

He ultimately heard the declaration.

'You were disloyal

You were hollow-hearted', and she lost her authority.

He came out of there and sat in his car. All of her prerecorded voices came to his mind.

He didn't even think that a powerful supernatural life is standing beside him. He was unable to decide whether to be pleased or to be regretful.

She had quit going to the hospital. She yelled cherishing her.

It looks like she had gone to another globe,

Where she only yearned her... (A memory)

Where she only prayed for her... (A need)

Where she only feels that she was a mad, crazy human... (A thought)

Even there were many calls from the hospital, DANIEL came to meet her daily but she didn't meet him as she was packed in her four-walled room

SAAD also called him many times but she didn't respond.

After a month, she came into her room and when her eyes roamed around her room, adverse vibes gathered her.

MARINA was sitting in a dark corner of her room, Lying her soaked face between her folded legs. She came more closer to her and called her name: 'MARINA'

Her eyes were still staring at the floor.

'MARINA', she called again.

'She didn't think about me. At least she could leave her last allegory for me, but she took it with her...

She was disloyal...' 'No, she was not disloyal...

I was disloyal, I am disloyal. She is not only here just because of me. It was my blunder'

'I shouldn't have told her',

'I had an extravagant blessing with me in my life but she snatched of me. Is this friendship?

Is this love?

Is this the promise?' And she dropped her control.

'Now, I have no reason to live more', A fatal outcry rebellowed in her room.

She was defeated...

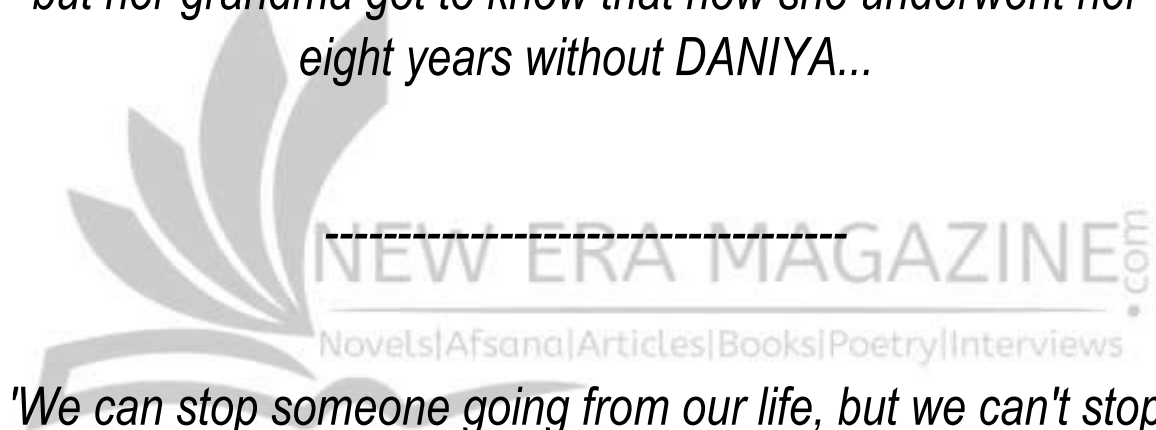

She was broken...

She was ceased...

She saw her growing up a thoughtful perfected person in front of her eyes,

In every step of life whether it could be a bad experience or a good one, she was addicted to sharing everything with her grandma. The situation today was not even the day when they were getting married, she was very happy.

*And when she came back from her renew journey,
There was an unlimited gleaming reflecting from her character but her grandma got to know that how she underwent her eight years without DANIYA...*

'We can stop someone going from our life, but we can't stop someone going from this universe', her grandma was explaining to her.

*She came out of her room after a month's day, not just to come into her life again,
But to go to someone's place but before leaving her house, she met her grandma.*

*'But she has not gone, someone has sent her'
'I am only responsible for all of this', her guilt was speaking.*

'It was like a dream, I could see her smile...

I could see her fighting with him...

www.neweramagazine.com

I could see her achieving her goals...

I could see her impeccable...'

'I am going to duty, please take care of yourself, I do not tend to lose you', She kissed her grandma's hands.

*There was a pricking sensation in her heart,
She didn't even want to meet DANIYA today but she went to share her grief...*

With a turbulent driveway, she stopped her car in front of a park.

Sitting silently in one corner, she was conceiving her perceptions.

She only came back because she had somewhere pledged that she was estranged in her life that;

She disregarded ALLAH,

She never endeavored to make HIM happy,

At this stage of life, where she had everything, she had to seek ALLAH.

That was the reason she went to ITALY to find HIM but after passing eight years in ITALY, it was indisputable that she had found HIM.

'I was incorrect', she whispered to herself.

Her steps were towards his cabin. She knocked on his cabin and after getting the answer she entered in...

He was shocked to see her face...

He recognized that her face was completely swollen due to crying but he said nothing...

'I want something from you', her eyes were on her hands.

'You don't need to take permission, just take what you want to', he gently answered.

'I want her cabin', she was still not seeing him.

'I couldn't get you', he asked again.

'From now, I want her cabin to sit in... She left her half conversation in between.'

'It's always yours...

You can take that one...', and she went off his room

After touching her every belonging, she sat on her chair.

Her beaming naughty face came in front of her eyes.

'Will meet tomorrow', she remembered when she last met DANIYA.

'Today, you would be here, you would be on this chair,

*If I didn't leave', he was listening to MARINA's weeping voice.
As he knew that she will ask for DANIYA's cabin, so he outfitted a CCTV camera to listen to her voice.*

When she was alone, she heard someone knocking on the door and she opened the door by herself.

A smiling face appeared. He was her patient and the way he smiles was taught by herself. SAAD knew why she wasn't coming to the hospital and when today she saw her swelling crying face, he didn't stay silent:

'That face which teaches people to be happy and content is crying today',

'Why have you changed your room?' he asked.

'I could not stay there anymore', a direct answer came.

'Everything is immortal and whether immortal describes an object or a human, everyone has to leave this world', he knew her pain

'I am a sinner', he was halted on her next comment.

'Probably everyone is a sinner', he consoled her.

'But I am more than everyone', she stated her thoughts.

'Probably everyone thinks like that', another aid.

'HE will never forgive me', he didn't know anything about MARINA, sometimes he thought to ask MARINA about her life but she was his doctor. THOUGH, she was bestowing her thoughts from him.

'HE forgives everyone, even, after forgiving, HE grants HIS men. HE is THE ENTIRELY MERCIFUL', he was reminding her own words.

After many years in his life, he was feeling that he is not alone, he has a sibling, and he has a sister. She used to read him before but today he is reading her.

'Did you know, last night she called me?' He was very cheering for a fellowship was growing between them but she was still silent.

'I am talking to you, DR MARINA', he distracted her from her thoughts.

'Though, I am listening to you', she fluently answered.

'Don't you think, you should also decide something for your life?' It was the first time he was speaking for her life.

'You don't know anything about me, I am a singly migrant of an exotic journey', she proceeded more.

'This unexplored route has no boundaries...

This unexplored route is my entire delicacy...

This unexplored route is my utter foe forever...

(Due to this range, she is not only with me)',

He was listening to her and the one who was listening to her voice about which MARINA didn't know was crying on himself.

'This unexplored route is your entire complete journey, it's my promise to you', DANIEL was saying to himself.

'By the way, who is 'THIS UNEXPLORED ROUTE? SAAD asked. A question that was always painful for her to answer.

'DR. DANIEL', she answered him. The boy sitting in front had an idea because he saw their lifelong friendship but the one who was listening to her voice was somewhere ashamed of himself.

'I only ran from here to escape from all that but how much will I run, at the last, I shall have to face it', tears were falling from her eyes. The first time he was seeing her weeping for someone.

She remained in front of his eyes or this was his sight which always catches MARINA's appearance.

She visited the hospital every day and saw her patients daily.

Now, these patients were part of her life.

The last thought which came to her mind was on 25th June and that last thought only says:

'She will always remember her...

She will visit a graveyard every day...

Besides that, she will thank LORD...

Then, there was a full stop on thoughts.

MAYBE, she doesn't desire to think about anything.

'You should talk and clear your all delusions', DANIEL shared all that he knows about MARINA to his grandma and she was the one who knows about everything since they were unknown about MARINA's feelings.

And now he had no one except his grandma to share all his despondency and misery.

'She doesn't even come in front of me', he continued.

'And she won't talk to me at all',

'She thinks that she is the only cause of DANIYA'S death,

'She has gone, she has left me but I want MARINA to be always with me', He had the pain of DANIYA's death but he wants to always see MARINA in front of him.

He only to walk with MARINA all the life.

Today, after so many days, she had the opportunity to gladden her heart.

She quietly lay down on her mother's lap and her mother was shaking her head.

'Now you should think about yourself', the subject which she was running from, her mother started that subject again.

'What does a person standing on a bank of river thinks about himself? Her eyes were still closed.

'Just come to an end today', she forced her.

'This subject has no end in my life.

I don't want to talk anymore...'

'But detachment is not the only resolution',

'Only if the world remains separate from me or I outlive separately',

'I hate this world', she angrily gave her answer

He happily entered her cabin, his gleaming eyes were expressing his happiness...

His playful murmuring voice was expressing his happiness...

'What's happening?' She finally asked for the reason. He was steadily smiling.

'I talked to her', He told the reason for smiling.

'Didn't you throw the bomb?

What did she say?

What were the expressions of your 'MINES'?

There were many questions.

'I only talked to her about her studies', he threw all the water on her expressions.

'Useless', she answered.

'Obviously, if I have a sister so my sister will talk to my future wife. Why do I confess my feelings?' another trick.

'Hello, I am working in his brother's hospital. HE will throw me out of this anonymous city', MARINA was not ready.

'Excuse me, I don't want any obstacles. You have to talk and you will talk', he issued his order.

'If my result... she was paused while talking.

'Listen, you have put on your all hard work, you will get the best grades, but don't be crazy, don't cry', MARINA was consoling her.

And she rejected the call.

*MARINA wondered if she had ever been like that the same.
That's how she fought for her result too...*

Her phone rang again, without seeing the name on the screen she answered to call:

'Guess what?

The declaimer against the receiver was crying with tears.

'You have topped with best grades and I was assured', MARINA clarified.

'But why are you crying?' MARINA asked the reason.

'Actually, I have received a marriage request', MARINA was shocked.

'But I don't want to marry that man', SHIZA continued.

'What about him', MARINA whispered to herself. He has told her to speak about their marriage.

'Why you don't want to marry that man?' she asked the reason.

'Because he is not a doctor', SHIZA answered.

'He is not even a doctor', a voice came from the mind.

'I have to do some work, I will talk to you in hospital', and she rejected the call.

There was only an intention in heart to talk to SHIZA about his mindset.

There came another call which distracted her but when she saw the name appeared on the screen, the heart was pounding to throw the cell phone but she answered to call.

'Do you know what? I was sleeping when I saw her crying in my dreams', MARINA was shocked by his comment. (Did he know telepathy?)

'Yes, she was crying', she answered him.

'Why was she crying and how do you know?'

A frequent question came.

'Because she has secured the over crossed result', she told the reason.

'Useless',

'Mr. SAAD, May I remind you, She is your future wife... she recalled him.

'I remember but her habits are very bad, who cries for no reason!!!'

'If you are asking so I must tell you it's your selection', and she rejected the call.

He didn't come to the hospital but SHIZA came to the hospital. She waited an hour for him to tell him about the news securing the best grades. He was only a stranger for her but how come their perception and mentality ended to fellow feeling. In just days, he became an honored person in her life.

Perhaps, he was like that, getting everyone used to his personage.

Perhaps, he was the one who taught everyone to smile.

Probably, everyone smiles just because of him.

'Why hasn't he come today?' SHIZA asked MARINA.

'Because I haven't called her', A direct answer came.

'Why?'

'Until yesterday, you were saying that you only like doctors.

Listen, before our sibling's association, he is my patient. He only smiles because he possesses belief in his eyes and I have implemented this belief.

I have witnessed him standing just because of that belief.

I have perceived him coming to the hospital just because of that belief', she was making SHIZA acknowledged by his mindset.

'Friendship is a prominent alliance,

And he has just become your friend'.

'After being discharged from the hospital, he only came here to see you', At that moment she remembered their first fight.

'He had no friends when your brothers taught him to be friends',

At that moment she remembered their first conversation on friendship.

'When he had no one with him, his eyes saw you', at that moment she remembered his eyes staring at her.

'Maybe, he knows telepathy just for you', MARINA remembered the last night's conversation.

'It is good to live in reality but how to make this reality beautiful is in a person's hand',

'Maybe, he cannot be with you all the life due to his disease but the word 'ALWAYS' is not for a human being and a human being cannot live forever', MARINA was confessing her the reality.

'Man has a lot of time to think, but what he is thinking about has not that much time',

(This is an actuality, our uncertain yearning cannot withstand with us forever)

He became endeared and valuable to all of them in a few days. INDEED, before he was a patient for MARINA

But during his healing, they became good companions.

The 'MINES' became his friends just because of MARINA because she somewhere deemed that he could come back to his life but their bond became effective in days that they talked daily.

He occupied a distinct place in their heart that they assumed that he was very magnificent for them.

By starting his studies, he too moved on in his life though he knew that he is bearing from disease (Perhaps, he could not accomplish his every goal)

Except he thanked for what he had even he knows that he had left throbbing heart or even he had left breathings.

It was enough for all of them that began in touch with him through cell phones.

'When everything was going subtle, then why it happened?' she was asking herself.

'He was absolutely fine', an exclusive thundering voice came from inside.

The scene she saw when she got there was incredible.

The red light on the upper side of the room was still shining with its color. Probably, everyone was standing there just as to hear the doctor's answer.

Looking in the adjoining room where she was imploring. Although the door was closed she could see the reflecting uproar from the mirror.

(She was tormenting in tears and anguish for him)

'So was he going back?' She asked a question herself.

'So did he come to live that much life?' another question.

'So did he come to see that much brightness of life? Another question.

She took a glance at everyone. She opened the door and sat on the darkest edge of the room. The one who was praying immediately swirled around at the sound of the door opening and saw her sitting in the corner.

Now, she too had come and sat beside her.

'If he had brought that much time along with him, then how we'll live without him?' The question MARINA was running away from and SHIZA had asked the same question.

(Hands were quivering from sudden unknown feeling, Heart suspended to pounding...)

'IMMORTAL' she remembered the word she said.

(DANIYA had too gone. She had taught herself to live without her but SAAD, he had just learned to live life.

He had learned to gasp because there was hope in life.

There was a sparkle in his life because he wanted to make SHIZA his only partner.

Will his all dreams come true?)

(Did she have such audacity to lose anyone?)

'ANYONE was he anyone?

He was the foremost person in their life', She was asking the question and answering herself.

'How did it happen? She asked SHIZA.

'On the way to the hospital, someone severely bumped his car.

When I called him at 11 O'clock, No one picked up the call. After an hour, I received a text from an unknown number', SHIZA showed the text to MARINA.

'He needs blood', BURHAN entered the room. His clothes were full of blood.

'My blood group matches with SAAD's one', MARINA fluently answered.

His smiling face was coming in front of her while giving the blood. She was a doctor too, she can do his treatment but if she sees him in such a condition so probably she will lose hope.

Hearing the doctor's answer made their condition worse.

He urgently needs a heart donor.

MARINA used to test all her sick patients for many days that a donor might be found.

She wished she could donate her soul to him...

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

Running to her cabin, she out all the files of her patients to check any feasibility.

That was not the time of her duty but DR. SHURAIM fixed her duty in the cancer patient's ward. All nurses were busy in their duty but her consistency was lost on an object.

They had only sixteen hours left to arrange a donor for him.

All of them had personally tested themselves to donate their heart to him but all of the practices went abandoned.

The definitive solution on which she subjectively consented was to donate her own heart. She picked up her file and went to DANIEL's cabin.

They both were talking about the donor there and when they saw her entering his cabin, they stopped.

'Well, that's good that you are here, I want to show you something', she said to BURHAN.

'This is my file, my all test are negative according to these statements... she left her conversation in between. The two of them sitting there understood what she was trying to say.

'It seems that you have lost your mind', DANIEL's anger was at its peak.

'It's about someone's life, certainly, someone has to sacrifice for it, whether it's me or someone else. And according to medical study, his body can only accept that heart which possesses the same blood supplies', she was giving defense.

'And we have only sixteen hours left...

'NO, we cannot let you do that, but we can wait', BURHAN handed her file.

DANIEL was still staring at her with his fiery eyes. She picked up her file and exited the cabin.

They both were talking about the donor there and when they saw her entering his cabin, they stopped.

'Well, that's good that you are here, I want to show you something', she said to BURHAN.

'This is my file, my all test are negative according to these statements... she left her conversation in between. The two of them sitting there understood what she was trying to say.

'It seems that you have lost your mind', DANIEL's anger was at its peak.

'It's about someone's life, certainly, someone has to sacrifice for it, whether it's me or someone else. And according to medical study, his body can only accept that heart which possesses the same blood supplies', she was giving defense.

'And we have only sixteen hours left...

'NO, we cannot let you do that, but we can wait', BURHAN handed her file.

DANIEL was still staring at her with his fiery eyes. She picked up her file and exited the cabin.

Anxiously sitting in the ward, MARINA was thinking about what to do when she heard the sound of a sudden shout. A patient was shouting in the ward. When she went closer to that patient, he was an old man with a continuous vibrating figure.

When she tried to stop his quivering hands, he opened his closed eyes.

'OH, dear! You are a doctor. Could you please help me?' he said with his staggered tongue.

'Why not...

'I am suffering from the...', he was not able to speak.

'You need a complete rest, we can talk afterward', she said.

'No, if I didn't speak today, I would probably never be able to speak', He left her shocked.

'Perhaps...', his staggered tongue was not able to speak more. It was feeling very painful for MARINA. She could not see that old man.

'Please, don't bother your tongue, your throat is not giving you permission to say more', she stopped him.

'Perhaps, I have no time but before closing my ponding heart and seeing eyes I want you to complete my last wish', He didn't even know MARINA and he was expecting such a valuable thing.

'This was my father's last wish to donate his heart to someone who needs his heart but I have not been able to do this in my entire life. I am very unlucky and I am sure that my children will not fulfill my wish', It seemed like a helpless person was standing in front of her.

'That is the reason I am begging you, PLEASE, donate my heart to someone who needs it', He was begging MARINA. His helplessness was dying from his eyes and his staggering tongue.

'We can pray to ALLAH, HE must save your life', she gave him hope.

'Who are you giving false hopes to?' There was an eye to eye connection.

'We are doctors, we know all the conditions of this hospital. We knew the wants of every patient and even we treat them as much as we can but to save someone's life we can't take someone's life', she directly answered.

'Sometimes, someone will be needed...

Please, I do not have much time left and I want my last wish to be complete in front of my opened eyes', At his request, she picked up his file.

*She could not deny the truth with her own eyes.
The file was proving that his blood group completely matches with SAAD.*

*SO fate wants her to take someone's life to save SAAD's life?
SO ALLAH wants that old man to sacrifice or to donate his heart for someone who he doesn't even know?*

She reported the file to DANIEL.

'It's better that you should deal with this case. I cannot do this operation. You better should take help from DR. SHURAIM', he was seeing a losing MARINA first time in his life.

'SO, DR.MARINA FAYYAZ, Are you stepping backward?'

There was no answer from the against side.

'SO, this is my last view or you can assume promise.

Remember, you will see his smiling face again',

Her eyes were continuously peeking the empty floor. She didn't want to see the ICU.

Was he coming back in their life or was he going from their life?

Seeing the broken figure standing next to her, a thought came to mind that she was only thinking of herself. What about SHIZA?

She just had a friendship with him...

She just had believed him...

Immediately, the shadow of the red light was disappeared. All of them standing were going through the same sensations.

They were feeling that someone has stepped on their whacking heart.

The one who came out of the ICU with no expression on his face stopped in front of MARINA.

MARINA was endlessly seeing in his eyes.

'He will regain unconsciousness after two hours',

DANIEL answered while seeing in her eyes.

All of them standing there came into their world again.

SO, he was not going to leave us...

SO, he will live his life...

'He has come back to his life, you are the only one to bring hope and happiness in his life', the one who was timid about going in front of him was shocked by MARINA's comments.

'Go and tell him that he can breathe as ever as he wants', another order.

'Will you not come inside', SHIZA waved at his room.

'It's time for you to go', MARINA's eyes were seeing SAAD from the reflecting mirror.

'He knows that you have donated your blood to him and he is just alive because of you', SHIZA was making her believe what she did for him.

'He is just alive because ALLAH wants Him to live his life.

He is just alive to spare his life with you.

He is just alive to complete his desires', Eyes was still seeing him.

'And if he wants to meet you',

'I will meet him when he will come to me by himself', a smile shone on her face.

When she entered the room, his eyes were closed.

*'GO and tell him that he can breathe as ever as he wants',
she remembered MARINA's words.*

Now, a step closer to him,

Apprehensiveness gathered her.

Another step closer to him,

Will he believe that he is alive?

Another step closer to him, she was standing beside him.

The heart was pulsating to call his name but somewhere there was a belief that he will recognize her presence.

She was continuously watching him.

And in a minute, a smile rose on his cheeks.

So, he recognized her, but even today he was acting.

A wave of anger surfaced in her eyes. Even he was on the bed but he was the same as before.

A mischievousness shines from his smile today as well.

'I am going', she stepped backward angrily but he held his hands.

'The girl's attitude is never-ending', he was still smiling.

'What about you?

You guys only know how to trifle with girls', she was still angry.

'You will still be angry today, Today,

It is the day of happiness', he winked his eye.

'We have a lifetime to fight and you have a lifetime to get angry but today... he left his conversation in between and she understood what he was trying to say.

*Why there were so much confusion and anxiety?
Why the heart was recalling to see her again?
Why was he feeling inferior?*

Lazing on the bed, his eyes were constantly circling on his unrest feelings. For a minute, he picked up his cell phone, dialed her number but suddenly his hands.

He stood up from his bed and came in front of the mirror. His clothes were looking fine. He ran his hands through his hair.

'You will get used to me from now', a playful smile was visible on his face.

*When he reached out of her house,
She was sitting in her car. He looked at his watch but he approached on the matter to follow her*

Firstly he thought she was going to the graveyard but she changed the route, he slowed down his speed.

Today, it would have happened automatically.

She didn't want to throw the stones...

She didn't want to find ALLAH...

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

She didn't want to finish any sign...

There was no guilt...

There were no wants...

So why did she come here?

It was their favorite place 'FOUNTAIN DAISY'. They always visit this place together and he never visited this place after DANIYA's death.

But he saw MARINA coming here thus, which means she had visited that place before without them.

He saw her sitting on the edge of the pool. Her legs were moving constantly in the water just like she was seeing her life in the water. He went closer to see her distinctly.

He felt her lips permanently moving.

'Momentarily I have adopted a lifestyle to live without her', he was listening to her.

'I daily talk to her just like it's being a habit.

It looks like everything is precise in life. It feels that everything is exceptional.

*I don't have to give any more justification to her about DANIEL and my regarding feelings for him for she had gone',
He heard another confession by MARINA's lips.*

'There was no significant patient in my life before SAAD but when he came, she became my great companion. Now, he is also fine.

Now, he will spend his life.

Now, he will be happy', a crying smile appeared on her face.

'What does life want from me?' She was whether talking to herself or she was talking to ALLAH but DANIEL was feeling that this time ALLAH was only listening to MARINA.

'Everything is fine now.

Is it ringing for any other exam of self- heart beating', she took a deep gasp.

'I don't know, whether I possess the firmness to suffer more, whether I own the firmness to lose someone, whether I occupy the firmness to cry more,

Whether I hold the firmness to test my fortitude

He was listening to MARINA. She always looked like she is complete she is happy in her life but she knows that how whether she was spending or suffering her life.

The one who was coming back towards her cabin stopped by listening to some speaking voices in her cabin.

'Now it's up to you', they were standing at distances.

They were seeing each other as strangers.

Then, she decided to enter her cabin, and now only she was the one who can take this matter to an accurate path.

'The decision has to be made today and the right decision has to be taken', she said just as she entered.

'So you know that too', BURHAN confirmed.

'I was the one who played a vast role in making these two guys friends', MARINA said.

'She is your sister, you have the right to make decisions regarding her life but if you are thinking about his life...'

SAAD was listening to her.

She was the one who always speaks for him.

'If you are thinking of his health if you are thinking of his responsibilities so we don't have even any guarantee of our health as well and if we talk about his life and his responsibilities so he how to handle everything in his life.

The most important thing is he is the only one with whom she will be happy', MARINA was smiling.

'But you should tell us before', HAROON was complaining.

'Obviously, we could him the tips before how to handle my sister', So all the confusion was solved. They agreed to their marriage

'We don't need any satisfaction or verification for we know you very well ', SAAD was very happy for he was very near to his dreamt journey.

Today was the night of only obliged and beholden to ALLAH and to memorize SHIZA again and again.

There were his uplifted hands to pray and there were his moving lips. Yet, there was an elegant feeling in his heart. He wanted to concentrate on his worship but she was disturbing him by coming into his mind again.

Today, he was smiling while praying.

Today, he decided to pray for MARINA for she was an invisible angel in his life.

According to what he conceived, MARINA was very unexplainable. All her actions were like any blessing to him. What she did for him, she didn't even want any thanks for that. She didn't even signify what she did for everyone.

She understands what the against person is trying to share. Maybe, ALLAH has sent her into this world only to help and to understand people.

But maybe she has lost herself somewhere.

Probably,
She doesn't think about herself or she doesn't want to think about herself.

He only wants to do something for MARINA but what he wants cannot reach the right track.

'SO, how was your day?' BURHAN asked the one who was continuously smiling.

His eyes were continuously peeking at the cell phone. He didn't reply to BURHAN.

MARINA was continuously noticing him.

'SAAD', she suddenly called him.

'We are talking to you', now he uplifted his face.

'Crazy boy, my sister will be in your's property just in some days, Can't you wait', HAROON taunted.

'Excuse me, I was responding to one of my office employees',

'LIAR', MARINA pointed at once.

'Guys, I want to tell you all something especially you 'MR. My going to be BROTHER IN LAW' my sister has very attitude and especially she is ill-mannered...

'Hello, you are talking about my wife

BEHAVE...', SAAD pointed at once.

'Let me correct you, Brother, She is your future wife', MARINA altered him.

'SO, when are you giving us the party?', this time it was ANUS turn.

'Soon, my boys', SAAD said.

'By the way, Sister MARINA now you should about yourself', her face color changed. She didn't answer anything and her concentration went somewhere in those memories.

'Actually, if you give us permission so we can find a handsome hero just like you', she was not listening to them but as DANIEL entered the room.

'What's going on guys?'

He asked.

'We are having an important discussion about DR.MINA's life',

BURHAN replied

'Don't you think she should marry a smart handsome boy just like her', BURHAN asked.

A wave of possessiveness passed through his soul, they were closed to each other but they never talked to MARINA about her marriage but Now they were discussing to MARINA in front of DANIEL so an envious feeling gathered him.

'DR.MARINA', ANUS called her.

She saw DANIEL standing with them.

www.neweramagazine.com

*'Excuse me guys, I have to leave for an emergency',
She stood up from her chair, picked up her cell phone, and left the room.*

SAAD was somewhere thinking to talk to her again but it was incredible. DANIEL left the room and followed her to the cafeteria.

Drops were falling on her unfolded palms. She was peaking her open hands.

Why did he come into my thoughts?

Why did he come in front of me?

What does he want from me?

(She was questioning herself)

He was listening to her voice standing at her back.

People sitting in the cafeteria were seeing her for she was a popular doctor and now they were seeing her helpless person in her life.

She picked up her cell phone and opened DANIYA's picture.

DANIYA was smiling in that picture.

'What if you took me with you?'

'I am tired of this world...'

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

I am tired of myself...

Everyone asks me the same question', she was crying.

'How could I tell them that I could not give this place to someone else', so he heard another confession.

'How feeble I am to myself', her screen was soaked due to her falling tears, she dried them, kissed that picture and tried to stand up.

When she saw the person behind her, her eyes remained unlocked but the expressions of that person were standard which was signing that he had listened to nothing. She said nothing and left her chair back but he stopped her way.

'I need to talk', he said.

'But I don't want to talk', she answered.

'MARINA, you're forcing me... he left his conversation in between.

'I beg you to please me leave me, I don't want to talk to anyone', and she left the cafeteria.

'You have to come back to me', he whispered to himself.

'So what's your name', she asked the person sitting against her.

The person sitting against her was her new patient. Today she will have to work on another case and she had to work by herself.

'AALIYAN', he answered.

She was going to ask the next question but a sudden call stopped her.

'Yes, SOONIYA...', It was the first that someone from her home has contacted her during her duty thus she frequently answered but SOONIYA was crying against the receiver.

'What happened?' she asked.

'Daddy...

MARINA was paused, SO, Her new exam was here again.

'He slept before an hour, I went into his room to make him awake but he isn't responding', SOONIYA was crying.

'I am coming', MARINA said.

'NO, ADIL is coming to the hospital, you should wait there', and declined the call.

When he was going to the cafeteria, she saw MARINA standing out of her cabin. When he went closer, She saw her eyes peeking the floor. She was shedding silent tears.

'MINA', he called her as she raised her soaked face.

'Why are you crying?', he asked, she didn't reply.

She sat while crying.

'I am tired of this life', she was crying.

'First DANIYA, then SAAD and now my Daddy', he was shocked.

He put his hand on her shoulder just to console her but she removed his hand.

Her condition was symbolizing that she didn't want to see anyone.

She was lying on a corner as an incomplete human today as well. He came out of the ICU and came towards her and sat with her.

'He is fine now...', she heard his voice.

'He had an angina attack but he will regain his normal condition soon,

You can meet him after two hours and a special reminder...', she saw him at this point.

'You should have to fulfill his every wish and should agree to what he says', he shared his point of view.

'He loves you very much and to me, he is just like my father.

You are very special to him and you are very special to me as well', the last comment was un-understandable by MARINA.

He was gathered by many breathing circuits around his body. He was looking weak too but sleepy at that moment. She put her hand on his head and kissed his head. She sat next to him.

She waited for two hours for his father and when he opened his eyes.

He saw MARINA sitting next to him, he smiled.

'I am not too much bad as you think...

You should have told me your problems', She said with tears in her eyes.

(DANIEL was standing at her back, He was only listening to what she was saying. He was happy after seeing her possessiveness for her father.

She always seemed to be innocent in his eyes. She knows how to win people's heart but she always snubs herself)

'I am also little son, Can't you share your facing troubles with me?

I am very disappointed',

'You are dearer to me but you are a little stubborn', He was still smiling.

'I will accept everything you say, PROMISE', she did a promise.

'But you don't look so well on this bed, Come on you have to get up', she was continuously saying.

'But you have to accept for what I say', he assured him.

'I don't know how many days I have left...', he was saying now.

'You will get well soon then we will talk about matters', she knew what he was going to say.

'No, I have to say now and I want you to accept for what I say...'

'I want you to be happy in your life, in your home. You always ignore the conservation of your marriage but now you have to take a final decision. You have promised me', He issued an order.

The one who was standing on the back was only listening and she was silent as she didn't want to say anything in front of him.

'We will talk about this afterward', she was about to leave the room when DANIEL stopped her.

'Uncle, I consider you as my father...', he was seeing MARINA

'MARINA is my best friend, I will be more than happy to spend my life with her', His father was happy after listening to this but to MARINA it was disagreeable.

She was angry with herself. Why she did that promise?

She was sitting with her injured hand.

There were broken pieces of glass spread all over her cabin.

When he entered her cabin and saw her injured bloody hand, he came closer and tried to clean the falling blood.

'OHH! Please at least don't try to touch me', she tried to take her hand.

'What do you want? Why do you follow me?'

'Now, I get your point, you feel happy to see my convalescence. And Yes! That promise which you have done to my Daddy, I will die but I will not do this', She took her hand back and was leaving her cabin.

He tightly held his other hand.

'I can also force you',

He threw another bomb.

'The people like you only know how to force helpless people but I will never agree to you',

'And yes leave my hand', she angrily said.

'Now I will have the right to touch this hand in the future', he confidently answered.

'And yes! Don't try to cheat or don't try to run', he came closer.

'You know I can do everything', a mischievous smile was shining on his face.

'I never do this sin', another comment

'If you call marriage a sin that's fine, be ready DR.MARINA, you will see me around you always',

And he left the cabin while smiling.

The same thing happened with her about which she had fear in herself. Instead, he came the next day, and now she was sitting on his name.

She was tolerating the inadequacy obsession inside her.

'What she will think about me? Her sister has tried to snatch her right...' There were many more suspicions in mind.

'I have become a part of new sin just because of you guys', she blamed her mother.

'You are expecting from me to give him peace...ME'

'WAOOOO! The one who is finding peace somewhere in the world can give someone peace?'

She was smiling artificially.

'The one who was asking for her forgiveness of sins from ALLAH had now become a sinner again', her mother was peaking her.

'I am feeling embarrassed that I am also the part of this dirtiness',

Her condition was unexplainable.

'Unfortunately, my parents misused me', Now MARINA was out of control.

'You have to visit this seminar at anyhow',

DR.SHURAIM just issued the order.

'I am not well these days, I cannot come', she was not agreed to go to the seminar as she had to face many questions.

'You have to attend this seminar or else there will be a penalty charged', and he rejected the call.

'Insane doctor', MARINA threw her cell phone.

The one who was sitting in her room was seeing her craziness. She just asked the question: 'What's going on?'

'These questions are very easy to ask, only I know how to handle the situation',

MARINA answered her sister.

'Then, why are you hiding?

Be ready to attend the seminar confidently', MARINA was shocked by her comments.

She was going to say something when her cell phone rang. It was an unknown number.

After picking up the call for what voice she listened to, a fire gathered in her eyes.

'So, DR.MARINA FAYYAZ, OHH!! SORRY, DR.MARINA DANIEL, Are you coming to the seminar by yourself or may I pick you up?'

She was feeling DANIEL is making fun of her.

'You should keep a 10 meters distance from me and my matters',

She directly answered.

'HAHAHA! I usually maintain distance from people's matter but the people who belong to my property are always mine' and their matters are my matters, His voice echoed in her ears. She was about to cry.

'You will not understand like this, I am warning if you called me again or you again came in my way I will leave this city',

She lost her courage.

'Don't try to do that', his angry voice echoed from the cell phone as she stepped on his burning vein.

'What happened?'

OHHH! Now I got it. MR.DANIEL, Your weakness is in my hand', she was laughing.

'This is your misunderstanding, I will come back to you wherever you will go so don't try to escape and remember just be ready for tomorrow's seminar', a confident answer came.

'I am not bound by your orders', she answered after taking a deep breath.

'Yes! You are bound and if you think you are not then you will be bounded by me in your life and remember you have to come to my house one day', He was ready to give all the answers.

'Guys like you enjoy after having someone's weakness in your hand', she bent herself.

'You are my responsibility', another answer came.

'Why are you doing that?'

She asked for the reason.

'You are doing wrong with yourself but I will not let to do more', he tried to console her.

She was going to sit in her car when she saw DANIEL's car coming towards her. He came towards her.

'SO, My dear wife, you are ready to go to the seminar', he was smiling.

'Come on, sit in the car', he held her hand.

'I can go on my drive, you don't need to worry', she confidently answered.

'Don't dare to follow', she raised her voice but he came in her way.

'Who can stop me? ...

You, who doesn't even raise her eyes in front of me', another answer.

'Misunderstanding... I know how to handle everything in my life, I don't need your support', and she sat in her car.

'You better understand this, MRS.DANIEL, you will see me in your every way and secondly

I am allowing today you to go but will never let you go later', He said while seeing her from the window.

All her friends were there.

She had somewhere the idea that which type of questions will be asked from her. This was the first time she was attending a seminar and this seminar was going to be live on the news channel and will be published in newspapers.

She had only fear how she will answer their personal questions.

DR.SHURAIM was standing with her when her name was called out. She saw him.

'I will control the situation if goes out of our hand, MEANWHILE, you must go there and handle everything confidently', DR.SHURAIM said her.

Mam, could you told about that hospital which you established in ITALY', a reporter asked her. Her eyes were on laughing DANIEL. At this moment, she answered all their questions confidently.

'I only established that hospital for the deprived population of ITALY and I was not alone, DR.HAROON and many other doctors were included in this social work and especially, ALLAH was with all of us', she answered with a smile.

'Is this true that you solved many cases which were not related to your field', another question came.

'Yes, there were many cases of gynecology and psychology. It was very difficult for me because I had no knowledge and experience and personally, according to my point of view A doctor is an angel send by our LORD to save patients and our LORD helps us but in many psychological cases DR.HAROON helped me', she answered. SAAD was also listening to her voice by live news.

'DR. MARINA DANIYA DANIEL was also a doctor in this hospital and now you have married her husband?' her face color changed and all the pictures came in her mind.

The question which she was expecting from them was again here.

There was a helplessness in front of her eyes and she saw DANIEL with her helpless eyes.

'Is that true that you were friends from childhood?', Tears gathered in her eyes. She better understood to run from there.

*'I have done nothing', MARINA was again here with her weakness and she was talking to ALLAH.
'What happened today was expected. I was not ready to go. It will be very disrespectful to our hospital for I left that conference in between but I was compelled to do so', she told the reason as if HE is listening to her.*

*'He forced me to marry him...', she began to cry.
'OHH! You are hereafter nine years', MARINA heard a voice from her back. When she turned that lady was standing who helped her nine years before.*

'I visited here many times but you were not here', she wiped out her tears.

*'Why are you here? What do you want?',
That lady asked the question.*

'I have no one to share my grief so I only share with HIM', she answered. Today she had every answer to that lady's question.

'So are you confirm that HE listens to you', she questioned her.

'HE listens to everyone as if it is our grief, our sadness, or our happiness', she gave a quick answer.

'Then you have to be patient', the lady gave her a solution.

'I don't want anything now, I only want justice for DANIYA, I have done wrong with...',

Her conservation was left in between because her cell phone rang. She rejected the call.

'You are not wrong in fact or perhaps this is your exam', she was making her believe.

'The more belief will show you the best outcome', the lady said.

'But I am not tired of my exams, everyone hands my weakness, I only had DANIYA to share my feelings with but she had gone', her eyes were seeing the flowing water.

'She promised me that whenever I will call her, she will come back but she is disappeared.

I only donated my reason of breath to her but she gave me her life', she was telling her pain.

*'I didn't want her life and I never demanded that',
That lady was silently listening.
'Person occupies her every want after being patient',
'But I don't want anything', she directly answered.
'You don't want him back?',
She asked a difficult question. MARINA didn't know the answer. She didn't even know what she should think about this matter.*

*'You have to take me out of the hospital, you can.
This is my resignation letter', and she was about to leave the room.*

'Who told you that I am going to do this?'

She had turned back again.

'Yesterday... MARINA left her conversation in between.

'Yesterday's seminar, just ended as you left because DR.DANIEL didn't give permit to continue more and secondly the reporters are not allowed to ask any personal question', DR.SHURAIM gave her letter back

'What about this', she asked about the letter.

'I am not going to give you any resignation', He issued an order. She exited his cabin.

'Strange doctor, he doesn't know to praise someone work',

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

She murmured to herself.

'So you are coming to my betrothal', ALMIRA confirmed again.

'Yes, I will', she answered.

'Grandma was also asking for you', she reminded MARINA.

'When are you coming back home?

She asked again.

'It's not much important', MARINA answered.

'My brother is very alone in his life', she again reminded.

'So, he should force another girl just like me but I will not come in his talks again', MARINA answered.

'But he only likes you', now MARINA was silent.

MARINA was seeing her leaving the room.

'What happened?'

DANIEL asked ALMIRA when she came out of her cabin.

'She is very stubborn', she showed her thumb.

'Will she come in your betrothal?

He asked.

'She had said yes but I don't think so she will come', she said.

'Your sister-in-law is very stubborn', he smiled.

'She is also your wife, and her stubbornness is just similar to you', She started laughing.

'SHUT UP', he commented.

'You have come after two days here, where were you for two days?',

Her mother asked her.

'I don't need any so-called hope or so-called worry. Only thank GOD for I have come here after two days or else you all haven't left any other direction for me', she angrily answered.

'Why should I come here?

Is my any right left to live in this house?',

Her mother was silently listening to her question. She was a mother, she knows how painful it is for a mother that her daughter is not happy in her life.

'Parents have all the rights to see their children happy', she answered.

'But I have not given the right to steal the only left peace from my life', there was a fit of boiling anger falling from her eyes.

Her phone rang again.

'Why are you disturbing me? She was in anger.

'I have only called you to tell you that in any condition, you have to come to tomorrow's function. You know no one can stop me to force you',

DANIEL answered.

She didn't even reject the call and threw her cell phone back.

'I think you have forgotten how to talk to people', she teased her on her way of talking.

'I have forgotten everything and now I will forget that who am I', tears started falling off her eyes.

'You have left me insulted in front of everyone. How will I face everyone? I told you before that I don't want to marry anyone despite all that you choose him to destroy his life', DANIEL against the speaker was listening.

'What she will think about me there, I have tried to steal her right. What will people think about me, yesterday a question was raised that I have married her husband.

Tomorrow, people will think that I have removed her from my way to marrying the one whom I love the most',

HE listened to another confession.

'Why are you thinking for people?',

Her mother asked.

'Life is not spent like this, there must a balance, I cannot only think about myself', she answered.

DANIEL decided to go to her house and take her along with him.

She was sitting alone in her room when she heard a voice of walking legs coming towards her room. She locked her room.

He entered her room by coming through the window

But there was complete darkness in her room.

When he was going in, he listened to her talking to someone so he better understood to stop MARINA.

He snatched her cell phone when she was talking to someone. Her eyes were still not believing that he was in her room although the room was locked.

'You are not going anywhere', he snatched her cell phone.

'I don't want anyone's permission', she tried to take it back.

'My approval is a must for you. Come on, pack your things up, we are going back home', he issued an order but she was standing still.

'You are very stubborn. No problem, I can also this work', He went towards her cupboard and tried to open it but it was locked. He saw a half-torn paper lying under the study table. Then he remembered that once DANIYA told him about the written poetry for him by MARINA and it was a half-torn paper.

'MARINA I have no time, I will take you without your things', He again reminded but she was standing still.

'What's your problem? Aren't you listening to what I am saying?'

He came a bit closer.

'I will not go with you', she answered.

'So then I will stay this night here with you, MY dear wifey', He was smiling.

She better understood to leave this room but he came in her way

'You are not allowed to exit this room especially this night', she sat in a corner.

He was continuously peeking at her.

She was silently crying.

'You can share your heart's grief with me. Maybe I can find a solution?'

He sat next to her.

'I don't want to live with you', she finally responded.

'I cannot leave you', he answered

'I don't want to go with you', she again said.

'Even I cannot do that', he answered.

'Then why are you asking to share my heart's grief with you.

You better understood one thing I will choose to kill myself but I will never go with you',

She answered boldly.

'Yeah, I can also try this death drama with you. We both will enjoy together',

An angry wave came into her eyes.

'I can solve the complaints which you have with me', he saw her.

'You are keeping your life in difficulties just because of me.

I cannot give you anything except a disrespect or insult', He smiled as he knew she will sacrifice her own life but will not allow the world to disrespect him.

'I will listen to all your complaints at home. Come on, get ready', he stood up and gave another order.

'I will not go', she was still sitting.

'You are compelling me to force you again', he held her hand.

'You are coming with me. Tomorrow is ALMIRA's engagement after that...', she saw towards him.

'Don't be so happy...

After that, I will listen to all your complaints but I will not let you go',

She even doesn't know why she was fond of playing with glass today. Maybe,

She wants to see whether her life wins or that glass wins.

She burnt the glass with lighter and a losing smile was visible on her lips.

'It turned out that I had lost', she said to herself.

'Yeah! I had lost in my life', she opened the lighter again.

'You are listening to me, DANIYA, I am coming to you', she brought the lighter closer to her clothes.

'We will peacefully live together.

There will be a silent harmony in our new life', there was a broken smile on his lips.

The one who entered the room was shocked to see the glass and lighter in her hand. He came closer to her to take it back but she stopped him.

'Don't dare to come forward.

'I will burn my hand', she showed the burning the lighter.

'MARINA, he only called out her name.

'Just stay there', she said.

'Don't do that', he held out his hand.

'Give me back', he ordered but she was standing at her place.

*'You are giving your life just because of this so-called world.
You have your own life. You have your own decisions', he further explained.*

'Then, why...

Why are you forcing me?'

She tried to ask.

'She didn't have to courage to speak in front of me and she will take her life', He laughed and murmured.

He pulled her towards him and snatched the lighter and glass.

'You are very severely insane', she was in anger.

'So I am', he laughed.

'Let me go', she begged.

'And if I did not let you go', there was a naughty smile on his face.

She again sat down on the floor and started crying like a child.

'Listen, just peek at yourself, and just learn to live the life. This stubbornness will destroy me', he said with grief in his eyes.

'You are destroying yourself', MARINA answered.

'You have done wrong with me', her eyes were still down

'I only want to see you happy', he answered.

'But I can't keep you happy', she wasn't seeing him.

'I have an idea... the words were not matching to his feelings and expressions.'

'I have an idea about what you can do for me',

He moved his face direction from her.

'Don't keep yourself in stress.

Don't harm yourself', Now he saw her.

'Because you are very special for everyone',

While checking some files, MARINA came in his mind. He left all his work and went towards her cabin.

'I have come there only because of you and grandma, just don't keep any expectation from me', She responded to ALMIRA.

'You have all the right to your happiness',

ALMIRA tried to make her comfortable.

'Your brother only knows how to steal someone's happiness', she became harsh.

'I have every right regarding my property, I am only trying to give you happiness but you are very stubborn, MY GIRL', he proudly said while coming in.

'Today, you have come there because of grandma and ALMIRA but remember, every day is not the same. Tomorrow, you will live there because of me', he winked his eye.

'Mistake... But my bad, Do you remember I told you that I will leave this city so I am not gonna wait for someone.

Here are my tickets and here I am.

*I have come here to resign and to say GOOD-BYE to you all',
she confidently answered.*

'If in a case I let you go', he snatched the tickets and torn all of them.

'DR. MARINA DANIEL, I know how to possess the complete right on my property', he held her hand.

When he came into his room, she was finding something continuously.

He directly sat on his bed and started peeking at her.

'Maybe she likes me or not but it doesn't look like because she had never seen me back', he thought while seeing at her.

His eyes were continuously stopping at her opened hairs.

Worriedly, she decided to tie up her hairs

And he was permanently noticing her movements and a beautiful smile appeared on his face.

She opened the cupboard and created all the mess for finding something.

She came towards the sight drawer of the bed where he sitting and seeing her.

She opened the drawer but still was unable to find it. She felt his eyes peeking at her so she threw a pillow and said:

'Can't you help me?' she angrily asked.

'You didn't say me', he answered.

'Is it necessary to say everything?

She saw him.

'Obviously, you can also understand by your heart',

She understood what he was trying to say.

She went towards the cupboard. He called her.

'MARINA', but no answer came.

'MA-RI-NA',

He started to sing her name but no answer came.

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

'MA-RI-NA', he again called.

'Yes', she finally answered while looking at her things.

'DANIYA was telling me something about...',

She felt that someone has stepped his feet on her beating heart.

She saw him who was continuously busy in seeing her.

A wave of fear gathered in her eyes and she began to take deep breathings and

She ran out of his room.

'So I got my answer, DR. MARINA', he said to himself.

'How far will you run?

All your ways end on me', he confidently said.

'He did this to you', grandma innocently asked.

'You are asking as if you don't know anything',

She saw her back.

'Now I got it, he is only playing me if he knows everything regarding all that rubbish', she answered her.

'You are calling your all feelings rubbish?',

Grandma tried to know which path she wanted to walk.

'That rubbish had destroyed everyone's life.

Now I am again a sinner', there were a lot of misunderstandings in her mind.

'I will not go back to his room', she hugged grandma like a small child. Grandma started smiling.

'Maybe anytime he can kill me', grandma laughed.

'Now, come on, grandma,

Say to your daughter to come to my room and serve me', he entered the room.

'I am not going anywhere', she hid her face.

'You must serve me, come on, I have a headache, come on, you have to press my head', he ordered.

'I will press your throat',

She whispered.

'GRANDMA', she saw her

But she was ready after grandma's agreement.

'Listen, you will not bother me at night, right?',

She innocently asked.

'I don't know', he happily answered.

He directly jumped on his bed after entering the room.

MARINA set in one of the corners of the room.

'Will you spend the whole night by sitting like this?'

He asked.

'Because I have to sleep and you know I need someone's hand while I sleep',

He winked her eye.

'Before you, I usually slept in grandma's room but now my wife is back so I don't need anyone except her',

He came towards her.

'Shut up', she angrily said.

'I will sleep here, you should sleep, don't wait for me',

She closed her eyes.

As you wish', he decided to give her a little bit of space.

He crouched down on the bed, saw her last glimpse, and closed his eyes.

There were many thoughts in both minds.

She was thinking that she is doing wrong to him indeed he talks sweetly to her.

The memories which passed the days ago were very harsh by MARINA to him

But his perspective and attitude were fine.

Her innocent face was coming in front of him. He was unable to sleep.

I don't know why is she so afraid of me', he thought (Her fearful eyes came in front of him).

Whenever I try to talk to her, she tries to run away', he thought (He remembered that moment when he was sitting very close to her and it was the first time when she saw her crying too closely and there was a strange breaking in his heart).

'I don't know why she doesn't feel sorry for herself', he thought (That moment came when she tried to kill herself).

'When will you believe me?'

He thought helplessly.

*Neither of them was sleeping, only their eyes were closed.
He was constantly opening his eyes to see MARINA but when he opened his eyes the next time, she was not in her place.
She was not on the bed too.*

When he stood up, he detected that she was sitting with her head down next to his side on the floor.

When he went a bit close,

She was sleeping with a frame in her hand. After seeing it, he got to know it was their three picture.

'So she was missing her', he murmured.

'If only I had ever been remembered like that', he smiled.

She suddenly stopped while getting out of the car because there were many doubts in her mind.

'How will people see me?',

She placed her head on the driving wheel.

'Whatever people say

Or think is not our business because it's our life and I know how to handle every decision', DANIYA's voice reverberated in her ears.

'So I should go', she gets out of the car.

While walking,

She felt the people's eye on herself and after reading their rubbish minds she directly ran to her cabin and there was someone who was waiting for her.

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

*'OHH!! So my handsome bro is here', she happily hugged
SAAD.*

'Did he bother you?'

She asked SHIZA.

'He doesn't have that much courage',

SHIZA answered proudly.

'OHH!! Your property is very cruel, I think so!'

She asked.

'Now I have to spend my life with this material sister',

He innocently said.

MARINA and SHIZA laughed at his innocence.

'Hello! Your days will come too', He responded on their laughing.

'By the way, when will days of asserting her right come to end?', SAAD stared at MARINA.

'Obviously, we are also standing in the queue',

MARINA said happily.

'OHH! It looks like you have become romantic by living in DANIEL's company',

*The heartbeat started its countdown after hearing his name.
The smile somewhere on her face was disappeared.*

'You promised to give a party', She told him.

'Otherwise, we will not leave him alive',

BURHAN entered the room.

'Miser boy', he furthermore teased.

'Meanwhile, we should demand a treat from DR.MARINA DANIEL',

SAAD remembered everybody.

'What could be better of demanding treat than sitting in my cabin and talking non-sense?

You guys only sit in my cabin for this non-sense talk.

One day your brother-in-law will throw me out of this hospital. There is a cafeteria in this hospital so now this is your treat', MARINA said.

'So you have become selfish', SHIZA winked her eye to MARINA.

'Guys, she is always selfish and cruel',

DANIEL entered the room while saying.

'SO we should demand a party from MR.DANIEL now',

SHIZA said while seeing MARINA.

'Sure, but after my wife comes in my hand',

HE came towards MARINA.

'Wives are very difficult to handle', SAAD taunted.

'You have to go home with me on the way back',

SHIZA said to SAAD while staring at SAAD.

A big roar of laughing extends out of MARINA's room.

'Can you guys even believe it?

Does it look like that we have done a love marriage?

But this girl is always ungrateful and evil towards me',

SAAD said innocently.

'No problem, She possesses the right',

MARINA commented.

'So after seeing this, I have thought I would never get married',

BURHAN said.

And if a witch or a serpent dies on you?',

MARINA asked innocently.

'Anyways, nowadays, such shadow fell on handsome guys',

SAAD said.

'So you should marry someone to control that shadow',

MARINA continued.

He could not bear her silence for more than five minutes so he started the conversation by himself.

'I think so you should take a leave from hospital', he gathered strength.

'So that you get a chance to talk more non-sense', he was shocked at her comment.

'Why did you do that nonsense in front of everyone?

What the meaning of talking that rubbish?',

She angrily asked.

'Yes!! I agree with all that rubbish you didn't even believe me, You don't work for me, wives make delicious recipes for their lovely husband', he taunted.

'LOVELY', she repeated back.

'You have to live with me as I am now', he said.

'DANI', so she called his name after many days.

'OHH! So my wife has a heart, she also feels bad',

He hilariously said.

'You have not done anything good that you are laughing',

She teased him.

'The best good deed in my life was to marry you',

He said while smiling.

'There is no effect of my any conversation to you', she angrily responded.

'He was correct

(Wives are very difficult to handle)',

She stared at him at his comment.

'There is no benefit,

Why should I waste my time?',

She was about to go from his room when he called back.

'MARINA',

She stopped but didn't turn back.

'Looks like I am influencing someone',

He left her heartbeat run faster.

'Don't need to go anywhere, come on, it's time to sleep',

He innocently ordered. He set a pillow close next to him.

'I will sleep at my respective place,

Don't Worry',

She said.

'I don't worry but I think someone is worried about me', he was still smiling.

'Shut up', she responded to his smiling.

When she was going out of his room, he again called back.

'MARINA', this time she turned and saw him smiling again.

'Come home with me at night',

Another order.

'All he has to do is order',

She murmured herself and left the room.

'So I am influencing you.

But your foolish brain has to be placed on its place',

He murmured to himself.

'I will clarify all the matter this night', he confidently said to SAAD.

'It is much difficult to think that will she believe this reality?', SAAD asked him.

'She still considers herself a sinner...

She thinks that DR.DANIYA is not here just because of her just because of knowing her feelings...

The feelings which she considers rubbish...',

SAAD was worried about MARINA.

'It was all my mistake. I have always discussed my life with her but I never asked her about what she thinks, what she wants in her life',

The guilt can be easily felt from his eyes.

'She will not agree...

I think she is planning to leave this place as soon as possible.

We have to do everything very quickly',

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

SAAD said.

'She cannot go anywhere...

I have taken all her significant documents

That's enough, I will not let her go', He confidently answered.

'I am also DANIEL, I will confess my all feelings to her this night', His smile was shining.

'And If she will not believe you', SAAD asked.

'Do you know? She took a breathing promise from me before leaving this world.

I don't want to do that but she made me able to love MARINA as she left, she knew that MARINA will die for DANIEL but she will never leave me alone', TEARS fell from his eyes. She was missing DANIYA badly today.

'But there is no one in this world like her.

She was standing at my back just like a shining protecting reflection. She made me confident to marry DANIYA and then she left this place and didn't come back nine years. She changed herself just because of me.

Personally had an idea that how MARINA had spent her life

But still, she was spending an acting life to keep everyone happy by destroying herself', He was helpless in MARINA's case.

'Maybe, her peace and sincerity brought your steps towards her', SAAD was seeing in his eyes.

'When I got to know about all this matter, Ever since she remained in front of my eyes. I became used to see her but didn't know that I would be forced to make this daily habit a lifelong habit',

He wiped his tears.

'It seems that eyes have approved a habit to see her',

DANIEL confessed.

She always hides her eyes...

She always hides the pain in her eyes...

She always hides the fear in her eyes...

He saw her eyes...

He recognized the pain in her eyes...

He recognized the fear in her eyes...

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

'Whatever she did for me, she became the center of my prayers and my heart',

SAAD confessed.

'But maybe ALLAH has sent her to live for others',

SAAD again smiled.

'And the big and notifying point is this that she understands the purpose of her arrival',

SAAD continued...

'As her small brother, I will play my role and will try to make her agree to her',

HE put his hands on DANIEL's shoulders.

There was impeccable silence in the car.

Her eyes were springing out of the window. When she felt that he was continuously peeking at her, she stared at her angrily.

'I want to go home for a night', She demanded.

'So?',

He asked while driving.

'So...

Just drop me there',

She again demanded.

'Who will take care of me',

He asked.

'You used to live alone before too...

You used to take care of yourself before too...';

Her eyes color suddenly changed.

He stopped the car on a deserted road, he moved his hands from the driving wheel towards MARINA's hands.

At this night, his eyes, his way of looking, his gesture, and his actions were strange which were felt by MARINA.

*'Before that I was single but now my caretaker lives with me',
He held her hand.*

'You always decide on your own', She snatched back.

'You also insist always',

He answered.

'So, my life, my will',

She confidently answered.

'Here is your answer, MRS.DANIEL my life my will', He saw in her eyes and started the car.

'All he has to do is order',

She repeated the dialogue and He listened to that.

'You have a right too...

*You can also order',
He raised a slight volume of the music recorder.
After a few minutes when she was seeing out of the window, her ears listened to her own recorded voice.
The recorded voice of that judgment day
When she and DANIYA were standing in front of each other.
When DANIYA got to know about all the reality.
'But she promised that she will never tell...',
Her mind supported her.
'But this recording',
Her heartbeat grew faster.
'This means he knew everything', Tears began to fall from her eyes.
She was rubbing her hands in nervousness. He only wanted to see her reaction but she was continuously shedding tears.
'This is the reality whether you accept it or not',
He spoke.
'I have not started this recording for you to sit here and shed your tears',
He again said.
'Just tell me the reality,
Is that all true?'*

He again asked.

They both knew the reality but no one dared to speak that night.

As soon as they reached the home she directly ran towards the room and closed herself inside the room.

He knocked on the door many times

But no response came so he decided to give her a night.

There was somewhere a fear in a heart that she will try to destroy herself but there was somewhere a belief in his heart whether this belief was doubt or reality but he thought that he knew all the reality so she will not try anything wrong.

'I only understood that you have kept this promise and close your eyes but he knows everything', She complained.

'Now, he will ask

Why did I do so?',

She thought of a reason.

'What will I answer?

I didn't even know the reason',

A helpless voice came.

So she slept while talking to herself.

When he opened the door in the morning, the surroundings were proving it is still night. There was a lot of darkness in the room even nothing was visible for him.

When he stepped a bit forward, he felt something under his feet. With the help of flash, he bent down and saw a piece of paper. He took it in his hand and tried to find MARINA with of flash.

A beautiful smile appeared on his lips for she was sleeping on his bed with his photo frame in her hand.

A sudden flashback came into his mind regarding that paper about which she had told him. When he prescribed lines were written on it but the thing which badly collapsed his heart was a cross on these lines and his name.

He understood that she was trying to push out all the memories of her life.

'I have come to you with great courage to say all that, I have gathered this strength from the last six months instead of knowing that it will be difficult for you to believe this reality but you will live with me',

He thought while moving towards her.

He called her to wake her up but maybe she was on another planet though she didn't show any response.

He smiled and sat on the floor near his bed where she was sleeping.

He was looking at her with a statue position.

'Today, you are asleep when I am here to finish all the misunderstandings'

Today, you have to answer all the reasons', he murmured.

When she woke up, she saw him sitting in front of her. She didn't understand what to do at that moment so she started the discussion by herself as if nothing had happened.

'Who sees like that?'

She questioned in a confused mood.

'I am seeing still you are asking and I am seeing my wife',

He noticed her confusion.

'I am not in the state to fight', she rubbed her eyes.

'So let's talk about some work', he got up from his place.

'Which one??', she asked.

'Get on to your duty, you have to press my clothes, you have to make delicious food, you have to wash my clothes and ...',

She was seeing him with shocked eyes.

She got up from the bed and was leaving the room.

'Right now you have to answer many questions', he came in her way.

'Which questions?'

He showed her that half-torn paper.

'Now don't say that you haven't written this,

Even you are the one who has put a cross on it', he spoke.

'I am not obliged to answer you', she answered.

'Just keep one thing in your mind, I won't let you go from here',

He held her hand and pull her towards him.

'Now you will tell all the things by yourself

Or you will get a punishment', he proudly answered.

'I have a lot of problems in my life, you are destroying yourself just because of me', he heard her weeping voice.

'Why do you see yourself by the eyes of the world?', she didn't understand his question.

'Life will be beautiful if you look at yourself with my eyes', he confidently spoke.

'There is no use of this conversation now', she was going on her way.

'She won't mind for your any decision. She will happy that if your decision goes on your equities', He again came in her way.

'Do you know, she had given me permission but she took a promise from me to always stand with you just like you promised yourself to always stand at my back', she was staring at him with weeping eyes.

'My stubborn girl, see now you have to do all this work', he pointed out in his messy room.

'That's why you have brought me here', she threw a pillow.

*'Now you will oppress me like this', she left his room.
'Hello! Don't call my love as cruelty...', he followed her.*

*'Someone is missing me', a text rang on her mobile.
She looked all around her room but a confusing smile appeared on her face.*

'You are watching me', she questioned him instead of answering.

'You used to sit here and only treat patients but now you all miss MARINA', BURHAN laughed at him.

'Love had made everyone Useless', SAAD commented.

'She is so cute', her real picture came into his imagination.

That's what happens always...

Every wish of the heart is fulfilled...

Provided if it's better for you...

How helpful and merciful that LORD is!!

MARINA was thankful to ALLAH although this thank wasn't equal to a drop of water in the ocean, her patience and her care for everyone blessed her the most desirable blessing in her life. She couldn't even express her feelings towards

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com

DANIEL but surely she was happy for what she had before and she is happy for she has now...

WRITER: AMMARAH ARIF

For more stories you can Follow: @this_is_readers_span

ہماری ویب میں شائع ہونے والے ناولز کے تمام جملہ و حقوق بمعہ مصنفہ کے نام محفوظ ہیں۔
ہمیں اپنی ویب نیو ایر میگزین (New Era Magazine) کیلئے لکھاریوں کی
ضرورت ہے۔ اگر آپ ہماری ویب پر اپنا ناول، ناولٹ، افسانہ، کالم، آرٹیکل، شاعری، پوسٹ
کروانا چاہیں تو اردو میں ٹائپ کر کے مندرجہ ذیل ذرائع کا استعمال کرتے ہوئے ہمیں بھیج سکتے ہیں۔

(Neramag@gmail.com)

(انشا اللہ آپ کی تحریر ایک ہفتے کے اندر اندر ویب پر پوسٹ کر دی جائے گی۔ مزید تفصیلات
کیلئے اوپر دیئے گئے رابطے کے ذرائع کا استعمال کر سکتے ہیں۔

شکریہ ادارہ: نیو ایر میگزین

www.neweramagazine.com

Email: Neramag@gmail.com